RFF.
f
Z
7817
N420s
1960:1

FOR REFERENCE

NOT TO BE TAKEN FROM THIS ROOM

NEW YORK

Selected List

CURRENT BOOKS AND PAMPHLETS

(Items Published in 1957, 1958, 1959, and 1960)

Added to the Collection of

THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY

Between January 1, 1960 and June 30, 1960

---

Selected List Series No. 15

Missionary Research Library
3041 Broadway
New York 27, New York
1960

68533

f
Z
7817
N420s
1960:1
Ref.

New York (City) Missionary research library

F O R E W O R D

The SELECTED LIST OF CURRENT BOOKS AND PAMPHLETS is published twice a year by the Missionary Research Library. The present issue contains accessions from January through June, 1960. With but few exceptions only titles published since the beginning of 1957 are listed. The more important pamphlets are given a place, and a few selected government documents. Periodicals and reports of organizations are excluded.

Books in the MRL SELECTED LIST may be borrowed, directly or through inter-library loan, if not available in a nearby library. However, books cannot be sent overseas. The Missionary Research Library does not act as agent for purchasing books. Orders should be sent to the publishers or through book agencies. In the case of foreign publications, the price is given in the currency of the country of publication whenever this information is readily available. Prices listed for United Nations publications are United States prices, since these items may be obtained at the International Documents Service of Columbia University Press in New York City. Friendship Press is the agent for Edinburgh House and the World Dominion Press. Any book agent or large library can indicate where foreign books may be ordered in this country. The addresses of publishers may be obtained by consulting the Cumulative Book Index (C. B. I.) or at any book agency.

The Library of the Union Theological Seminary, adjoining the Missionary Research Library, acquires many other books in the field of religions, which are available to readers at the Missionary Research Library.

The staff of the Missionary Research Library cooperates in the selection of books for the Library and in the preparation of book annotations. The special fields and interests of the Missionary Research Library determine the choice of books: the theory, history and methods of Christian missions, and world-wide Christianity; non-Christian religions; studies of areas, countries, peoples and cultures; anthropology and ethnology; international affairs and world peace. We would appreciate suggestions of significant books which have been omitted in our selection.

The following have been especially helpful in the preparation of this SELECTED LIST: the Rev. William R. Comstock, Miss Barbara Griffis, Mrs. Laura Person, and Mr. George T. Fuller.

September, 1960

Frank W. Price
Director

HOLBROOK LIBRARY PACIFIC SCHOOL OF RELIGION

Additional copies of this SELECTED LIST and of previous semi-annual and annual SELECTED LISTS may be purchased at fifty cents each. Payment with order is appreciated.

MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY
3041 Broadway
New York 27, New York
1960

Price Fifty Cents

FOREWORD

The SELECTED LIST OF CURRENT BOOKS AND PERIODICALS is published twice a year by the Missionary Research Library. The present issue contains accessions from January through June, 1960. With but few exceptions only titles published since the beginning of 1957 are listed. The more important omissions are given a place, and a few selected government documents. Periodicals and reports of organizations are excluded.

Books in the MRL SELECTED LIST may be borrowed, directly or through interlibrary loan, if not available in a nearby library. However, books cannot be sent overseas. The Missionary Research Library does not act as agent for purchasing books. Orders should be sent to the publishers or through book agencies. In the case of foreign publications, the price is given in the currency of the country of publication whenever this information is readily available. Prices listed for United Nations publications are United States prices, since these items may be obtained at the International Documents Service of Columbia University Press in New York City. Friendship Press is the agent for Edinburgh House and the World Dominion Press. Any book agent or large library can indicate where foreign books may be ordered in this country. The addresses of publishers may be obtained by consulting the Cumulative Book Index (C. B. I.) or at any book agency.

The library of the Union Theological Seminary, adjoining the Missionary Research Library, acquires many other books in the field of religions, which are available to readers at the Missionary Research Library.

The staff of the Missionary Research Library cooperates in the selection of books for the Library and in the preparation of book annotations. The special fields and interests of the Missionary Research Library determine the choice of books: the theory, history and methods of Christian missions, and world-wide Christianity; non-Christian religions; studies of areas, countries, peoples and cultures; anthropology and ethnology; international affairs and world peace. We would appreciate suggestions of significant books which have been omitted in our selection.

The following have been especially helpful in the preparation of this SELECTED LIST: the Rev. William R. Comstock, Miss Barbara Griffis, Mrs. Laura Person, and Mr. George T. Fuller.

September, 1960

Frank W. Price
Director

Additional copies of this SELECTED LIST and of previous semi-annual and annual SELECTED LISTS may be purchased at fifty cents each. Payment with order is appreciated.

MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY
3041 Broadway
New York 27, New York
1960

Price Fifty Cents

C O N T E N T S

I. HISTORY
- A. History of Missions ..... 1
- B. History of Missionary Societies ..... 1
- C. Church History ..... 2
- D. Ecumenical Movement; Church Union and Cooperation ..... 3
- E. Roman Catholic Missions ..... 4

II. BIOGRAPHY
- A. Missionaries ..... 5
- B. National Christians ..... 7
- C. General ..... 8

III. THEORY AND PRINCIPLES OF MISSIONS; THEOLOGY OF MISSIONS ..... 8

IV. MISSIONARY METHODS
- A. Evangelism and Church Work; Communication of the Gospel ..... 10
- B. Christian Education ..... 11
- C. Christian Literature and Literacy Education ..... 12
- D. Audio-Visual Communications ..... 12
- E. Medical Missions ..... 12
- F. Rural and Agricultural Missions ..... 13
- G. General Description of Missionary Activities ..... 13
- H. Administration and Promotion of Missions: Training of Missionary Personnel ..... 13
- I. Other Methods and Problems ..... 13

V. REFERENCE
- A. Missions ..... 14
- B. Yearbooks and Directories ..... 14
- C. Bibliographies and General ..... 15

VI. AREAS AND COUNTRIES: (1) GENERAL (2) MISSIONS, CHURCHES
- A. North America ..... 16
- B. The Caribbean Islands and the Guianas ..... 17
- C. Latin America ..... 17
- D. Europe ..... 18
- E. Africa (South of the Sahara) ..... 18
- F. Near East, Middle East, and North Africa ..... 23
- G. Central Asia ..... 26
- H. Southern Asia ..... 26
- I. South East Asia ..... 29
- J. East Asia ..... 31
- K. Pacific Islands ..... 35
- L. Australia and New Zealand ..... 35
- M. General ..... 36

VII. CHRISTIANITY AND NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS; OTHER IDEOLOGIES
- A. Religions of Primitive Peoples ..... 36
- B. The Great Non-Christian Religions ..... 36
- C. Judaism ..... 40
- D. Communism ..... 40
- E. General and Other Religions ..... 41

WOLBROOK LIBRARY PACIFIC SCHOOL OF RELIGION

CONTENTS

I. HISTORY

A. History of Missions ..... 1
B. History of Missionary Societies ..... 2
C. Church History ..... 5
D. Ecumenical Movement; Church Union and Cooperation ..... 7
E. Roman Catholic Missions ..... 8

II. BIOGRAPHY

A. Missionaries ..... 5
B. National Christians ..... 7
C. General ..... 8

III. THEORY AND PRINCIPLES OF MISSIONS; THEOLOGY OF MISSIONS ..... 8

IV. MISSIONARY METHODS

A. Evangelism and Church Work; Communication of the Gospel ..... 10
B. Christian Education ..... 11
C. Christian Literature and Literacy Education ..... 12
D. Audio-Visual Communications ..... 12
E. Medical Missions ..... 12
F. Rural and Agricultural Missions ..... 13
G. General Description of Missionary Activities ..... 13
H. Administration and Promotion of Missions; Training of Missionary Personnel ..... 13
I. Other Methods and Problems ..... 13

V. REFERENCE

A. Missions ..... 14
B. Yearbooks and Directories ..... 14
C. Bibliographies and General ..... 15

VI. AREAS AND COUNTRIES: (1) GENERAL (2) MISSIONS, CHURCHES

A. North America ..... 16
B. The Caribbean Islands and the Guianas ..... 17
C. Latin America ..... 17
D. Europe ..... 18
E. Africa (South of the Sahara) ..... 18
F. Near East, Middle East, and North Africa ..... 23
G. Central Asia ..... 26
H. Southern Asia ..... 26
I. South East Asia ..... 29
J. East Asia ..... 31
K. Pacific Islands ..... 35
L. Australia and New Zealand ..... 35
M. General ..... 36

VII. CHRISTIANITY AND NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS; OTHER IDEOLOGIES

A. Religions of Primitive Peoples ..... 36
B. The Great Non-Christian Religions ..... 36
C. Judaism ..... 40
D. Communism ..... 40
E. General and Other Religions ..... 41

VIII. SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SCIENCE ..... 42

IX. ANTHROPOLOGY AND RELATED SUBJECTS ..... 47

X. THEOLOGICAL, WORSHIP AND DEVOTIONAL ..... 50

XI. PUBLICATIONS OF THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY ..... 52

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2025

https://archive.org/details/international-bulletin-of-mission-research_1960_15

I. HISTORY

A. HISTORY OF MISSIONS

1. Iglehart, Charles W.
A Century of Protestant Christianity in Japan. Rutland, Vt.; Tokyo, Japan, Charles E. Tuttle, 1959. 384 p. $3.00 Well-documented history of Protestant Christianity in Japan, 1859-1959 - its growth through national changes and crises, and its "renewal and advance" since World War II. A signal contribution to missionary literature, by the distinguished professor emeritus of Union Theological Seminary in New York, now teaching at Japan International Christian University.

2. Smart, John and Harlow, R. E.
Missions; a World Picture. Westchester, Ill., Good News Publishers, 1959. 62 p. $.50 A brief, sketchy survey of the Christian missionary enterprise today. Published in the "One Evening" Condensed Book Series.

3. Taylor, Clyde W.
A Glimpse of World Missions; an Evangelical View. Chicago, Moody Press, 1960. 128 p. $1.50 Written by the Executive Secretary of the Evangelical Foreign Missions Association, this is a brief survey of Protestant missions and churches in all parts of the world. Statistics are drawn largely from The World Christian Handbook. Misapprehensions regarding "ecumenical missions" and the World Council of Churches mar what might have been a widely useful reference book.

B. HISTORY OF MISSIONARY SOCIETIES

4. Cauthen, Baker James, and others.
By All Means. Nashville, Tenn., Convention Press, 1959. 148 p. Six secretaries of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board describe the methods used in their missionary program - evangelism, teaching and healing, and the call to their churches to greater dedication of life and money. A mission study text.

5. Goodsell, Fred Field.
You Shall Be My Witnesses. Boston, American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, 1959. 312 p. $3.00; Paper, $1.50 The ABCFM, oldest foreign missionary society in North America, celebrates its sesquicentennial with this fine interpretive history, covering all phases of the Board's creative enterprises since 1810. The author, now retired, has been a missionary in the Near East and a Board executive. Good bibliography and index.

6. Means, Frank K.
Across the Bridge. Nashville, Tenn., Convention Press, 1960. 134 p. Southern Baptist missionary textbook for 1960, describing in popular style the work of nearly five hundred missionaries in thirteen Latin American countries and the churches and institutions with which Southern Baptists are associated.

7. Pape, Dorothy.
Captives of the Mighty; Christ and the Japanese Enigma. London, China Inland Mission, 1959. 320 p. 17/6 A sensitive and well-written description of Japan and Japanese society today, and the story of new work of the China Inland Mission Overseas Fellowship in northern Japan. The conservative evangelical outlook is marked, the book glows with missionary fervor.

8. Patterson, Frank W.
Caribbean Quest. Nashville, Tenn., Convention Press, 1960. 136 p. Southern Baptist mission study text for 1960, describing the countries and peoples of the wide Caribbean with their spiritual needs, and telling the recent story of the Southern Baptist missions among them.

9. Rigmark, William.
Covenant Missions in Japan. Chicago, Covenant Press, 1959. 118 p. $.75 After presenting the historical and cultural background of Christianity in Japan and appraising fairly the work of other missionary societies, the author tells the story of the Evangelical Covenant Church of America since it first sent missionaries in 1949. An attractive mission study text.

10. Swanson, S. Hjalmar.
Foundation for Tomorrow; a Century of Progress in Augustana World Missions. Minneapolis, Minn., The Board of World Missions, Augustana Lutheran Church, 1960. 370 p. $3.95 One hundred years' history (1860-1960) of a fine missionary enterprise in Japan, China, South America, India, and Africa, by the Board of Missions of the Augustana Lutheran Church. The author was for sixteen years executive director of the Church's overseas work.

11. Taylor, Ronald William.
Polynesian Paradise. Mountain View, Calif., Pacific Press, 1960. 136 p. $3.50 A story of Seventh-day Adventist missions in Samoa, describing Polynesian customs, everyday missionary service, and the beginnings of an Adventist Church on the islands. The author is Australian. For popular reading.

C. CHURCH HISTORY

12. Dolbeer, Martin Luther.
A History of Lutheranism in the Andhra Desa (The Telugu Territory of India), 1842-1920. N. Y., Board of Foreign Missions, The United Lutheran Church in America, 1959. 467 p. $3.00 Arduous research by the son of a Lutheran missionary has produced this exceptionally fine regional, denominational missionary history covering more than a century. A worthy contribution to "younger church" literatur

13. Fishman, Alvin T.
For this Purpose. Buntur, S. India, (Andra Christian College) 1958. 166 p. $3.00 A case study of the Telugu Baptist Church in Andra Pradesh, India-its outstanding growth over a century and a half, the problems of Christian living in a non-Christian society, difficult mission-church relations, trends and forecasts. Scholarly survey and policy statement by an able and experienced missionary.

14. Maus, Cynthia Pearl, comp.
The Church and the Fine Arts; an Anthology of Pictures, Poetry, Music, and Stories Portraying the Growth and Development of the Church Through the Centuries. N. Y., Harper, 1960. 902 p. $6.95 A magnificent anthology of 112 picture interpretations, 220 poems, 110 stories, 73 hymns and interpretations, dedicated to "the church ecumenical and its world-wide task." Material from Asia, Africa, and Latin America covers 170 pages.

15. Morrell, W. P.
Britain in the Pacific Islands. Oxford, Clarendon Press, 1960. 454 p. 55/- A full and competent study of British relations with the Pacific Islands, based on years of research and travel, from the earliest days to the present. Much material on Christian missions and from missionary writings is included. The author says, "The printed missionary material is a formidable mass of first-hand evidence about the Islands."

16. Newbigin, J. E. Lesslie.
The Reunion of the Church; a Defence of the South India Scheme. Rev. ed. London, SCM Press, 1960. 190 p. 21/- Revised edition of a work which originally appeared in 1948, on the theology behind the infant Church of South India. The new edition carries the implications of this movement down to the Lambeth Conference of 1958. The author was a Bishop of that Church and is now General Secretary of the International Missionary Council.

17. Wunderlich, Friedrich, Bp.
Methodists Linking Two Continents. Nashville, Tenn., Methodist Publishing House, 1959. 143 p. $3.00 Biographies of well-known early American Methodists who carried their new-found faith back to Germany, and a history of German Methodism since World War II. The author is a Bishop of the Methodist Church in Germany.

D. ECUMENICAL MOVEMENT; CHURCH UNION AND COOPERATION

18. Dumont, C. J.
Approaches to Christian Unity; Doctrine and Prayer. Translated with an introduction by Henry St. John. Baltimore, Helicon Press, 1959. 226 p. $4.50 Translation from the French: a study of the ecumenical goal of Christendom, from the Roman Catholic viewpoint. The author states that his main purpose is to address Catholic readers. His approach to the Protestant question is conciliatory and sensitive, although he does insist on the need for a visible unity ordained by means of the Roman Church.

19. Religion in Life, Summer 1960, Special Issue. Nashville, Tenn., Abingdon Press. "Edinburgh 1910-1960 and the World Council of Churches." pp. 328-401. $1.00 Articles of high quality by J. H. Oldham, K. S. Latourette, W. Richey Hogg, Stephen Neill, and others, commemorating the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Edinburgh Missionary Conference. Dr. Oldham's reminiscences are most interesting and illuminating.

20. Goodall, Norman; Newbigin, J. E. Lesslie; Visser't Hooft, W. A.; Niles, D. T.
A Decisive Hour for the Christian Mission; the East Asia Christian Conference 1959 and the John R. Mott Memorial Lectures. London, SCM Press, 1960. 96 p. 5/- Significant lectures by Norman Goodall, Lesslie Newbigin, W. A. Visser't Hooft, and D. T. Niles, at the East Asia Christian Conference in Kuala Lumpur, Malaya, 1959.

21. Jedin, Hubert.
Ecumenical Councils of the Catholic Church; an Historical Outline. (Translated from the German by Ernest Graf). N. Y., Herder and Herder, 1960. 253 p. $3.95 Historical account of the twenty councils recognized by the Roman Catholic Church, the last one being the Vatican Council of 1870. By a Catholic scholar. Brief meniton of the problems that will face the coming Ecumenical Council called by Pope John XXIII.

22. Johnson, Olive L., and Nall, Frances.
The Church in Today's World. Nashville, Tenn., Abingdon Press, 1959. 128 p. $1.00 This book is part of the Cooperative Series of Vacation Church School texts produced by the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. It contains ten lessons for junior high young people on the ecumenical movement as well as source material and a helpful bibliography

23. Joint Committee of the International Missionary Council and the World Council of Churches.
Directory of Christian Councils. Temporary edition subject to correction. N. Y., I. M. C., 1959. 214 p. A preliminary survey of Christian councils of different kinds in all countries, with information on their history, membership, constitutions, and program. Valuable for reference.

24. Lee, Robert.
The Social Sources of Church Unity; an Interpretation of Unitive Movements in American Protestantism. Nashville, Tenn., Abingdon Press, 1960. 238 p. $4.50 A study of the movement of American Protestant ecumenicity in terms of social forces. The author suggests that the reduction of social differences partly explains the trend toward church unity. Clear and forceful writing. A selected bibliography is included.

25. Margull, Hans Jochen.
Theologie der missionarischen Verkündigung; Evangelisation als oekumenisches Problem. Stuttgart, Evangelisches Verlagswerk, 1959. 335 p. This work in German by a young theologian studies the task of evangelism from an ecumenical perspective. The work is directly influenced by problems growing out of the World Council Assemblies of 1948 and 1954. An extensive bibliography is included.

26. Neill, Stephen C.
Brothers of the Faith. Nashville, Tenn., Abingdon Press, 1960. 192 p. $4.00 The story of the ecumenical movement in the 20th century, told through illuminating and inspiring biographies of twenty or more ecumenical leaders from John R. Mott to D. T. Niles. A fine gift book for both ministers and laymen.

27. Perkins, William A., comp.
When We Work Together. N. Y., Friendship Press, 1960. 64 p. $.85 Description of the significant ecumenical work-camp program of the World Council of Churches: work camps and service projects.

28. Spinka, Matthew.
The Quest for Church Unity. N. Y ., Macmillan, 1960. 85 p. $2.50 A small yet highly rewarding volume on the ecumenical movement, not only its history but also the crucial issues involved in the advance toward church unity.

E. ROMAN CATHOLIC MISSIONS

29. Bates, Margaret, ed.
The Lay Apostolate in Latin America Today. Washington, D. C., Catholic University of America Press, 1960. 66 p. $1.25 Proceedings of the 1959 Symposium at the Catholic University of America, with a discussion of a significant new development in Roman Christianity of Central and South America.

30. Considine, John J., ed.
The Missionary's Role in Socio-Economic Betterment. N. Y., Newman Press, 1960. 330 p. $1.75 "One of the few publications in English which seeks to survey social and economic betterment from the standpoint of Catholic workers in less developed countries." Summary of papers and discussions at a conference in 1958, held at Maryknoll Seminary. Many examples from actual experience. Lists of readings for each chapter, full index.

31. Foy, Felician A., ed.
The 1960 National Catholic Almanac. Garden City, N. Y., Doubleday, 1960. 696 p. $2.75 Important reference book on the current history, organization, doctrines, and activities of the Roman Catholic Church in the U.S.A. and around the world. Valuable up-to-date information on Catholic missions.

32. Galter, Albert.
Le "Livre Rouge" de l'église persécutée. Paris, Éditions Fleurus, 1956. 509 p. $3.80 Original French edition. Translated into English as The Red Book of the Persecuted Church. Catholic churches under the Communist regimes of various countries.

33. Hastings, Adrian, ed.
The Church and the Nations; a Study of Minority Catholicism in England, India, Norway, America, Lebanon, Australia, Wales, Japan, the Netherlands, Vietnam, Brazil, Egypt, Southern Africa, and among the Lele of the Congo. London and N. Y., Sheed and Ward, 1959. 238 p. 21/- Fourteen essays by Catholic scholars study the situation of Roman Catholicism as a minority religion in various countries. The authors take the position that such a situation is a healthy one for the Church and that "the Church has more to fear from Constantine than from Nero."

34. Hofinger, Johannes, ed.
Liturgy and the Missions; the Nijmegen Papers. N. Y., P. J. Kenedy & Sons, 1960. 308 p. $5.95 The growing movement in Roman Catholicism toward adaptation of worship and liturgy to different languages and cultures, and the increasing use of native music and vernacular forms in the services of the Church are discussed by twenty-seven eminent Catholic spokesmen from mission countries. A notable volume.

35. Nevins, Albert J.
The Maryknoll Book of Peoples. N. Y., John J. Crawley, 1959. 319 p. $4.95 Introduction to the countries and peoples of the world, written in an engaging style, and finely illustrated, with information also about Roman Catholic missions and churches. The author has traveled widely on all continents. Good book for the reference shelf and also for general readers.

II. B I O G R A P H Y

A. MISSIONARIES

36. Appleyard, Margaret Elizabeth.
Dr. David Livingstone: a Bibliography. (Capetown) University of Cape Town, School of Librarianship, 1949. 50 p. 8/- A select bibliography of material by and about Dr. Livingstone, found in the South African Library and in the Jagger Library, University of Capetown; about 200 references are included; periodical articles and juveniles are excluded.

37. Brown, Joyce.
"Dear Mom". Chicago, Moody Press, 1960. 159 p. $2.75 Letters (1955-1958) from a young missionary daughter serving under the Unevangelized Fields Mission in New Guinea, telling about herself and family and their new life and experiences. Written with selflessness and good humour.

38. Calkins, Thomas M.
Umfundisi; Missioner to the Zulus. Milwaukee, Bruce Publishing Co., 1959. 173 p. $3.75 Father Calkins, a missionary priest form the Loop in Chicago, writes in popular and exciting style about his experiences in Zululand. Full of warm human interest and humour.

39. Chadwick, Owen.
Mackenzie's Grave. London, Hodder and Stoughton, 1959. 254 p. 25/- New light from hitherto unpublished records concerning the heroic and tragic career of Bishop Charles Frederick Mackenzie who, at the invitation of David Livingstone, led an Anglican mission to the Zambesi, south of Lake Nyasa. Mackenzie was buried in an unmarked forest grave. Decades later his vision of a Church in Nyasaland bore fruit. A notable item of missionary history.

40. Cook, Robert F.
Half a Century of Divine Leading and 37 Years of Apostolic Achievement in South India. Cleveland, Tenn., Church of God Foreign Missions Department, 1955. 257 p. $2.00 Faith-filled autobiography of an American Pentecostal missionary who, with his wife, went to India in 1913. In 1936 they joined the Church of God Mission, working in the Telugu field until their retirement in 1950.

41. Corbett, C. T.
Soldier of the Cross; the Life of J. G. Morrison, 1871-1939. Kansas City, Mo., Beacon Hill, 1956. 128 p. $1.00 Dr. Morrison was a powerful leader in the Church of the Nazarene and for the last eleven years of his life Secretary for Foreign Missions.

42. Cousins, Norman.
Dr. Schweitzer of Lambarene. N. Y., Harper, 1960. 254 p. $3.95 Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, went to Lambarene to photograph two unpublished manuscripts by Schweitzer and to secure a statement from him on world peace. He stayed on to study Schweitzer's personality and philosophy and to write an intimate appraisal of his life and work. Many splendid photographs

43. Cowan, George.
Dear Bob. Chicago, Moody Press, 1960. 47 p. $.35 Ten simple letters from a senior missionary to a young friend considering foreign missionary service, emphasizing the difficult preparation of mind and heart needed and the sacrificial spirit that all missionaries should have. A booklet for recruiting purposes conservative theological viewpoint.

44. Douglas, Elmer H., ed.
Selections from the Journal and Letters of Henry Martyn. (Living Traditions from the Great Devotional Classics.) Nashville, Tenn., The Upper Room, 1959. 31 p. $.15 A brief, useful anthology.

45. Drury, Clifford Merrill, ed.
The Diaries and Letters of Henry H. Spalding and Asa Bowen Smith relating to the Nez Perce Mission, 1838-1842. Glendale, Calif., The Arthur H. Clark Co., 1958. 379 p. $12.50 A mission to the Indians of the Nez Perce country in Oregon, by the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. This material, published for the first time, gives a wealth of information about the Nez Perces and the difficulties of the early missionaries.

46. Hulbert, Kenneth.
Passion for Souls; the Story of Charles H. Hulbert, Methodist Missioner. London, Epworth Press, 1959. 122 p. 8/6 Biography of Charles H. Hulbert by his son. The subject of this short sketch was a Methodist minister active during the last fifty years in the "Forward Movement" of his church in England. Brief foreword by W. E. Sangster.

47. Johnson, Johnni.
Missionary Assignment; Your Place In Winning the World. Nashville, Tenn., Convention Press, 1959. 143 p. $1.25 Southern Baptist missionaries at work on many frontiers; well-written human interest stories, especially for young people.

48. Kerr, J. Lennox.
Wilfred Grenfell: His Life and Work. London, George G. Harrap, 1959. 272 p. 18/- Most complete and best written biography yet published of the famous missionary physician, Wilfred Grenfell (1865-1940). The work of the Grenfell Mission continues along 2000 miles of Labrador and Newfoundland coastlines.

49. Langfeldt, Gabriel.
Albert Schweitzer; a Study of His Philosophy of Life. Tr. from the Norwegian by Maurice Michael. London, George Allen and Unwin, 1960. 119 p. 12/6 The author, a well-known Norwegian psychiatrist, studies the philosophy of Albert Schweitzer in order to answer the question, "Is he a Christian?" He concludes that Schweitzer does not believe in conventional orthodox dogmas about God and Christ, but that nevertheless his message may be the answer to the world's problems.

50. Laubach, Frank C.
Thirty Years with the Silent Billion; Adventuring in Literacy. Westwood, N. J., Fleming H. Revell, 1960. 383 p. $3.95 The distinguished missionary and pioneer in his campaign for world literacy recounts the story of his thirty years of effort in this field. The account is factual but is also written to challenge the reader to a greater sensibility to the world's literacy problem. Short introduction by Lowell Thomas.

51. Lazell, J. Arthur.
Alaskan Apostle; the Life Story of Sheldon Jackson. N. Y., Harper, 1960. 218 p. $4.50 Sheldon Jackson (1834-1909), intrepid missionary, explorer, educator, statesman, spent fifty exciting years in Alaska. Good biographical research and writing; an important vignette of missionary history.

52. Leising, William A.
Arctic Wings. Garden City, N. Y., Doubleday, 1959. 335 p. $4.95 An exciting autobiography of a Roman Catholic priest, missionary to Northwest Canada since 1940, dentist, and air pilot, serving among Eskimos, Indians, and Americans.

53. New, Esmond W.
A Doctor in Korea; the Story of Charles McLaren, M.D. Sidney, Australia, The Australian Presbyterian Board of Missions, 1958. 46 p. 10/6 Dr. McLaren (1882-1957) was an Australian Presbyterian medical missionary to Korea, teacher of pediatrics and neurology at Severance College, war prisoner of the Japanese army, beloved physician, and consecrated churchman.

54. Palmer, C. S.
Tales of Tonga. Nashville, Tenn., Southern Publishing Association, 1959. 159 p. $2.75 The author spent his early years in the Tonga Islands of the South Pacific and returned there later as a missionary. An interesting book of childhood memories and experiences.

55. Starling, Lucy.
Dawn Over Temple Roofs. N. Y., World Horizons, 1960. 182 p. A Presbyterian missionary to northern Thailand since 1909 describes her varied experiences, impressions, and friendships among the people in a charming style, and weaves in stories of 19th-century missions.

56. Swenson, Victor E.
Parents of Many; Forty-five Years as Missionaries in Old, New, and Divided China. A Personal Narrative. Rock Island, Ill., Augustana Press, 1959. 348 p. $3.75 A beloved missionary of the Augustana Lutheran Church writes delightfully of his career in China since 1913. He and his gifted wife have recently spent five years in Taiwan where they founded the True Lutheran Church.

See also: 17, 179.

B. NATIONAL CHRISTIANS

57. Boorman, Howard L., ed.
Men and Politics in Modern China: Vol. 1. N. Y., Columbia University Press, 1960. 173 p. First volume (multilith) in a projected series of biographies of eminent Chinese in the 20th century, by the "Project on Men and Politics in Modern China" at Columbia University. Fifty personalities no longer living are delineated with historical accuracy and literary skill. C. Y. Cheng, David Yu, T. T. Lew, and Mary Stone, are the Chinese Christian leaders included.

58. Singh, Bakht
The Skill of His Loving Hands. Bombay, Gospel Literature Service, 1959. 73 p. $.50 Testimony of an earnest Indian evangelist, his conversion from Hinduism, and his long life of Christian service.

C. GENERAL

59. Allen, Richard.
The Life Experience and Gospel Labours of the Rt. Rev. Richard Allen. Written by himself and published at his request. (Republished in honor of the bicentennial of the author's birth.) Nashville, Tenn., Abingdon Press, 1960. 93 p. $1.50 The life story of Richard Allen (1760-1831), founder of the African Methodist Episcopal Church in the U.S., represented today in all parts of America and in many foreign countries.

60. Bartholomew, Carol.
My heart has Seventeen Rooms. London, Jonathan Cape, 1960. 190 p. 16/- The true story of an American engineer's wife and her family in India, marked by warm human interest and a genuine appreciation of the Indian people. The "seventeen rooms" of a hospital where Mrs. Bartholomew worked made an indelible impression upon her.

61. Dooley, Thomas A.
The Night They Burned the Mountain. N. Y., Farrar, Straus & Cudahy, 1960. 192 p. $3.95 Tom Dooley's third bestseller about his work on the edge of Communist China; exciting and heartwarming. Dr. Dooley is a devoted Catholic in his personal life and an unorthodox, self-advertising lay missionary in his service for world-wide "Medico."

62. Hobart, Alice Tisdale
Gusty's Child. N. Y., London, Toronto, Longmans, Green, 1959. 343 p. $5.00 "Strange, beautiful and true" autobiography of the author of Oil for the Lamps of China and other well-known novels.

63. Reddick, L. D.
Crusader Without Violence; A Biography of Martin Luther King, Jr. N. Y., Harper, 1959. 243 p. $3.95 A readable, informative biography of the well-known Negro minister of Montogomery, Alabama, now working in Atlanta. The author, a professor of history, is personally acquainted with the subject and believes that his principle of non-violence is the fundamental hope for a better world. An index and eight pages of photographs are included.

III. THEORY AND PRINCIPLES OF MISSIONS; THEOLOGY OF MISSIONS

64. Der Auftrag der Kirche in der Modernen Welt. Zürich und Stuttgart, Zwingli Verlag, 1959. 380 p. 16DM. This volume in German contains twenty-eight essays written in honor of the seventieth birthday of Emil Brunner. The essays are divided according to five main concerns--the mission of the Church, the state, society, the Church, and missions. An extensive chronological bibliography of the distinguished theologian is included.

65. Couturier, Charles, S.J.
The Mission of the Church. Tr. from the French by A. V. Littledale. Baltimore, Md., Helicon Press; London, Darton, Longman & Todd, 1960. 146 p. $3.50 Comprehensive view of the Church's missionary functions, developed into a theological and sociological theory, by a French Catholic scholar. Translated from the French original, Mission de l'église. Deals sympathetically with the relation of western to other cultures.

66. Hogg W. Richey.
One World One Mission. N. Y., Friendship Press, 1960. 164 p. $2.95; paperbound, $1.50 The main adult study book of the year on the Missionary Education theme, "Into all the world together." Richey Hogg presents a great deal of information on world-wide missions and ecumenical Christianity in a succinct and vigorous way. "We are the church. We are the mission. We are in the New Covenant, the people of God. We share in his life as we live in his mission."

67. The Indigenous Church; a Report from Many Fields. Chicago, Moody Press, 1960. 128 p. Articles by twelve leaders in "evangelical" missionary societies - C and MA, TEAM, Latin America Mission, Assemblies of God, etc. - describing their methods and experiences in establishing indigenous churches. Introduction by Donald A. McGavran, author of Bridges of God.

68. Joint Section of Education and Cultivation of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church, ed.
The Christian Mission Today. N. Y., Abingdon Press, 1960. 288 p. $3.00 A wide-range examination of the Christian world mission - motives, the outreach from America, the mission overseas, changing factors, and the task of the Christian minister in the great enterprise - with emphasis upon the Methodist responsibility, but relevant to the work of all denominations. Twenty-one contemporary leaders, mostly Methodists, contribute theological, interpretive, and practical essays. Important book.

69. Mathews, James K.
To the End of the Earth. Nashville, Tenn., National Methodist Student Movement, 1959. 131 p. $1.00 A study in Luke-Acts on the life and mission of the church; based on deep insights into the Scriptures and wide experience in the missionary enterprise.

70. Mesot, Jean.
Die Heidenbekehrung bei Ambrosius von Mailand. Schöneck/Bechenried, Switzerland, Administration der Neuen Zeitschrift für Missionswissenschaft, 1959. 153 p. Sw.Fr. 16.80 The conversion of the heathen by Ambrose of Milan - a treatise on early Christian missions and pastoral care of new converts. There is a special chapter on the conversion of Augustine.

71. Niederberger, Oskar.
Kirche - Mission - Rasse. Schöneck/Bechenried, Switzerland, Administration der Neuen Zeitschrift für Missionswissenschaft, 1959. 402 p. Sw.Fr. 28 A scholarly study in German on the concept of missions in the Dutch Reformed Church of South Africa. The theological concept of the church and of missions is first discussed and is followed by a historical survey of developments of thought that have occurred over the years. Apartheid is examined at length and the author concludes with a plea for the renewal of respect for both human personality and the life of the church.

72. Rosengrant, John, et al.
Assignment: Overseas. N. Y., Thomas Y. Crowell, 1960. 152 p. $1.95 "How to be a welcome resident and a worthy Christian abroad." A series of lectures given at the Institute on Overseas Churchmanship, by government, educational and church leaders. A "must" book for Christians going into overseas service.

73. Tenney, Merril C., ed.
The Word for This Century. N. Y., Oxford University Press, 1960. 184 p. $4.00 A collection of eight essays written by conservative preachers and theologians in honor of the centennial anniversary of Wheaton College. The essays attempt to elucidate and defend various aspects of the Statement of Faith of the College which is printed in the front of the volume, and have a world-wide relevance.

74. Van Leeuwen, A. Th.
Hendrik Kraemer; Dienaar der Wereldkerk. Amsterdam, W. Ten Have, 1959. 174 p. Fl. 8.90 A warmly appreciative biography of Dr. Kraemer, "servant of the world church," and thoughtful interpretation of his theology, though somewhat critical of his attitude to Barth. The author was a missionary for many years in the East Indies (Indonesia). Needs to be translated from Dutch into English.

75. Webster, Douglas.
Into All the World. London, S.P.C.K., 1959. 121 p. 5/- A "follow-up" book of the Lambeth Conference, to present the supreme evangelistic task of the Christian Church - particularly the Anglican Church - in the setting of a rapidly changing world, torn by ideological warfare, national and racial tensions, and the conflicts of resurgent faiths. Vital facts clearly interpreted.

76. West, Charles C., and Paton, David M., eds.
The Missionary Church in East and West. (Studies in Ministry and Worship) London, SCM Press, 1959. 133 p. 9/6 Nine incisive essays by Charles West, Lesslie Newbigin, David Paton, J. Blauw and others on Christian missions and missionaries in today's world, especially in relation to the growing "selfhood" of the "younger churches."

See also: 98.

IV. MISSIONARY METHODS

A. EVANGELISM AND CHURCH WORK; COMMUNICATION OF THE GOSPEL

77. James, E. O.
Which Religion? Is Christianity Unique? (The Enquirer's Library, No. 3.). London, A. R. Mowbray, 1950. 23 p. 8d. A brief description of non-Christian religions and a defense of the unique revelation through Jesus Christ. By the Professor of Religion at the University of London.

78. McGavran, Donald Anderson.
How Churches Grow; the New Frontiers of Mission. London, World Dominion Press, 1959. 186 p. 12/6 The former Church of the Disciples missionary to India and author of the provocative Bridges of God outlines his philosophy of "church growth" in lands where Christians are a small minority and eloquently urges greater evangelistic effort among "ripe populations."

79. Niles, D. T.
The Preacher's Calling to be Servant. N. Y., Harper, 1959. 143 p. $2.50 Strong sermons on evangelism, and the evangelist as servant, by the great Ceylonese preacher and ecumenical prophet.

80. Smith, Oswald J.
The Cry of the World. London, Edinburgh, Marshall, Morgan & Scott, 1959. 127 p. 8/6 Passionate sermons on foreign missions, by the famous pastor of the People's Church in Toronto, making a black-and-white comparison between the "Christian world" and "pagan world" and appealing for more money and more missionaries.

81. Webber, George W.
God's Colony in Man's World. Nashville, Tenn., Abingdon Press, 1960. 155 p. $2.75 A thoughtful, sincere, and powerful little book about the Christian mission on the New York inner frontier, containing a message for the Church everywhere. The author is a leader of the East Harlem Protestant Parish in a difficult slum area, "store-front ministry" to minority groups.

B. CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

82. Allen, Yorke, Jr.
A Seminary Survey; a Listing and Review of the Activities of the Theological Schools and Major Seminaries Located in Africa, Asia and Latin America Which Are Training Men to Serve as Ordained Ministers and Priests in the Protestant, Roman Catholic and Eastern Churches. N. Y., Harper, 1960. 640 p. $10.00 A notable achievement - the most comprehensive and thorough survey of Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox theological training that has been published. It provides a vast amount of well-organized information on the preparation of an indigenous ministry, and on the religious and church life of Asian, African, and Latin American countries. Tables and maps.

83. Batten, T. R.
School and Community in the Tropics. London, Oxford University Press, 1959. 177 p. 12/6 An interesting and useful book for teachers and educational administrators about the relation of the school to the community, service to homes and communities, and the training of teachers. References and index.

84. Carlberg, Gustav.
The Changing China Scene; the Story of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in its Church and Political Setting over a Period of Forty-five Years, 1913-1958. Hong Kong, Lutheran Literature Society, 1958. 261 p. $1.50 History of an important Lutheran theological training institution in China. The author was president from 1934 to 1952.

85. Edwards, Dwight W.
Yenching University. With a section by Y. P. Nei on Yenching in Chengtu. N. Y., United Board for Christian Higher Education in Asia, 1959. 468 p. $5.00 Yenching, renowned Christian university at Peking, from its earliest beginnings as a missionary school for boys in 1862, through the dynamic administration of President J. Leighton Stuart, 1919-1946, to the tremendous changes under Communist control. A full, authentic, and fascinating story, by a long-time China missionary and social worker.

86. Mace, David and Vera.
Marriage: East and West. Garden City, N. Y., Doubleday, 1960. 359 p. $4.50 A top-flight book, of genuine scholarly and literary quality, picturing marriage and family ideals and patterns in the East (chiefly India, China, Japan) as compared with western countries. Dr. and Mrs. Mace are internationally known marriage counsellors and have written many books. Recommended to all libraries.

87. Morant, Adelrich.
Die philosophisch-theologische Bildung in den Priesterseminarien Schwarz-Afrikas; aktuel Fragen der Priesterbildung mit besonderer Berücksichtigung Kameruns. (Neue Zeitschrift fur Missionswissenschaft, Supplementa VIII.) Schöneck-Beckenried, Schweiz, Administration der Neuen Zeitschrift für Missionswissenschaft, 1959. 263 p. Sw. Fr. 23.00 A Catholic scholar, writing in German, considers the problems of philosophical and theological education in Negro seminaries in Africa, particularly in the Cameroons. He first considers the material and spiritual presuppositions involved in present-day education and then examines the most appropriate form in which western thought can contact the African mind. An index and extensive bibliography, mostly of German works, are included.

88. Philippine Theological Education Consultation, Minutes of. Baguio City, Philippine Baptist Theological Seminary, 1959. 97 p. Sponsored by the Philippine Federation of Christian Churches and aided by the Nanking Theological Seminary Board of Founders. Detailed report of vital and interesting discussions at the theological consultation.

89. Rolfsrud, Erling Nicolai.
Ephphatha Missions. Faribault, Minn. Ephphatha Missions, 1959. 97 p. $1.00 History of the deaf and blind in human society, and of special education for them; followed by an account of (Lutheran) Ephphatha missions for these handicapped groups in the United States, which should prove suggestive to workers with the deaf and blind everywhere.

See also: 100.

C. CHRISTIAN LITERATURE AND LITERACY EDUCATION

90. Lado, Robert.
Linguistics across Cultures; Applied Linguistics for Language Teachers. Ann Arbor, Mich., University of Michigan Press, 1957. 141 p. $2.75 Written from long and fruitful experience in language-teaching, this is a practical, scientific approach to the systematic linguistic-cultural comparisons that must form the basis of improved teaching materials and techniques.

91. Laubach, Frank C., and Laubach, Robert S.
Toward World Literacy; the Each One Teach One Way. Syracuse, N. Y., Syracuse University Press, 1960. 335 p. $4.75 Frank Laubach and his son, Robert, present in detail the program for teaching illiterate adults and the methods of preparing suitable reading material, to which they have devoted their lives. A textbook on the training of literacy teachers, with many drawings and illustrations, from experience.

D. AUDIO-VISUAL COMMUNICATIONS

92. Bachman, John W.
The Church in the World of Radio-Television. N. Y., Association Press, 1960. 191 p. $3.50 A seminary professor of practical theology offers an analysis of our "electronic culture," particularly in relation to the Church's need to communicate its message. The book is very readable and full of incisive observations about the potentialities and present weaknesses of the mass media of television and radio.

93. World Communications; Press, Radio, Film, Television. 3d ed. (Paris), Unesco, 1956. 262 p. $8.00 An invaluable reference book for all interested in missionary literature and broadcasting: information about the press, radio, cinema, and TV in every country of the world, with interesting pictographs and interpretive articles.

E. MEDICAL MISSIONS

94. Clemes, Gene Phillips.
Drum Call of Hope. N. Y., Friendship Press, 1959. 96 p. $2.95 The inspiring ministry of Christian missions to the lepers of Africa, described with vivid, illustrative material. A story of compassion that touches the heart strings. Published for American Leprosy Missions, Inc.

F. RURAL AND AGRICULTURAL MISSIONS

95. Felton, Ralph A.
The Pulpit and the Plow. N. Y., Friendship Press, 1960. 168 p. $2.95 The beloved doyen of rural church professors contributes another book, in many ways his best, on the work of the rural church in America and around the world.

96. Ziegler, Edward Krusen.
The Village Pastor: His Work and Training for Towmorrow's World. N. Y., Agricultural Missions, 1959. 110 p. An excellent little book for rural pastors around the world, by a former missionary in India. Illustrative material from many countries.

G. GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF MISSIONARY ACTIVITIES

97. Thompson, T. K., ed.
Stewardship in Contemporary Theology. N. Y., Association Press, 1960. 252 p. $3.50 A symposium of nine essays on Biblical and theological principles of stewardship so vital to the life of the Church today. A valuable book for "mission lands" as well as American and European Christianity. Edited by the director of the Department of Stewardship and Benevolence, NCCC-USA.

H. ADMINISTRATION AND PROMOTION OF MISSIONS: TRAINING OF MISSIONARY PERSONNEL

98. Cook, Harold R.
Missionary Life and Work; a Discussion of Principles and Practices of Missions. Chicago, Moody Press, 1959. 382 p. $5.00 The capable and genial professor of Missions at Moody Bible Institute gives us a much-needed and helpful book on the foreign missionary: his day-by-day life and practical problems, preparation for overseas service, personal discipline and human relations, various forms of missionary work, the furlough year. Little is said about the encounter with ethnic religions, the challenge of Communism, and theological issues.

99. Directory of Persons and Places; the 18th Ecumenical Student Conference on the Christian World Mission, Athens, Ohio, Dec. 27, 1959--Jan. 2, 1960. N. Y., National Student Christian Federation, 1960. 85 p. $1.00 About 3,500 names and addresses, representing 84 countries and hundreds of North American universities and colleges.

100. McMurray, Mildred.
Educating Youth in Missions. Nashville, Tenn., Convention Press, 1960. 140 p. One of a series on missionary education issued by the Southern Baptist Missionary Union; discussing the psychology of youth, principles and methods of missionary teaching, and the enlistment of youth for missionary service.

101. Sargent, Douglas N.
The Making of a Missionary. London, Hodder and Stoughton, 1960. 155 p. 4/6 A wise and helpful little book on the missionary himself - his calling. qualifications, training, and the strains and difficulties that he will meet in his work. The author, a former CMS missionary in China, is now Principal of a Training College for missionary candidates. Recommended for use in missionary recruitment and preparation.

I. OTHER METHODS AND PROBLEMS

E. [illegible]

[illegible]

G. [illegible]

[illegible]

H. [illegible]

[illegible]

I. [illegible]

[illegible]

V. REFERENCE

A. MISSIONS

102. Molland, Einar.
Christendom; the Christian Churches, Their Doctrines, Constitutional Forms, and Ways of Worship. London, A. R. Mowbray, 1959. 418 p. 35/- A complete source-book of information about all the different Christian churches and denominations in the world today: beliefs, worship, constitutional systems, statistical data. A valuable book for libraries and for all interested in world Christianity. The author is a Norwegian scholar.

B. YEARBOOKS AND DIRECTORIES

103. Hansen, Harry, ed.
The World Almanac and Book of Facts 1960. N. Y., New York World-Telegram and Sun, 1960. 896 p. $2.00 Comprehensive reference book, now in 75th year of issue; contains important religious statistics and information about all countries of the world.

104. The International Who's Who. Twenty-Third Edition, 1959. London, Europa publications, 1959. 980 p. 120/- Latest edition, with biographical information about the "VIP"s of all nations.

105. Landis, Benson Y., ed.
Yearbook of American Churches; Information on all Faiths in the U.S.A. 1960. N. Y., NCCC in the U.S.A., 1959. 314 p. $5.95 Invaluable reference volume, prepared annually by the National Council of Churches. It covers all denominations.

106. Mallory, Walter H., ed.
Political Handbook of the World; Parliaments, Parties and Press, as of January 1, 1960. N. Y., Harper, 1960. 237 p. $4.50 Political information about 96 countries - governments, recent events, party programs and leaders, newspapers, etc. Important reference volume.

107. Nanporia, N. J., ed.
The Times of India Directory and Year Book Including Who's Who, 1959-60. London, Bennett, Coleman, 1960. 1304 p. Rs. 30 An encyclopedia volume containing a mass of useful and interesting information. The Year Book reports 4,803 missionaries from abroad, and 8,157,000 Christians. A "Who's Who" of over 1,200 important personages is included.

108. Robson, R. W., comp. and ed.
Pacific Islands Year Book. Sydney, Australia, Pacific Publication, 1959. 479 p. 37/6 Eighth edition of a comprehensive and valuable reference volume on the Pacific area.

109. The Year Book and Guide to Southern Africa; Union of South Africa, Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, South West Africa, etc. 1960. London, Robert Hale, 1960. 712 p. 10/6 Latest edition of a comprehensive and accurate guide book to the Union of South Africa, Rhodesia and Nyasaland, South West Africa, etc., with atlas, town plans, road map.

110. UNESCO
Statistics on Libraries. N. Y., Columbia University Press, 1959. 128 p. $1.50 Statistics on various types of libraries in all countries of the world. A fascinating reference book.

111. Yearbook on Human Rights for 1956. N. Y., United Nations, 1958. 312 p. $4.00 A survey of constitutional, legislative, and judicial developments in 74 states and other trust and non-self-governing territories, together with various government documents, legal enactments, and international instruments.

112. Zwayer, Wayland, ed.
Directory of American Voluntary and Non-Profit Agencies in Technical Assistance. (rev. ed.) N. Y., Technical Assistance Information Clearing House, American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service. 1960. 217 p. A new and enlarged edition, containing information about 80 American voluntary technical aid agencies, of which about 25 are missionary or definitely Christian organizations.

C. BIBLIOGRAPHIES AND GENERAL

113. Abernethy, George L.
Pakistan; a Selected, Annotated Bibliography. 2d ed. N. Y., American Institute of Pacific Relations, 1960. 39 p. $.75 Brief annotations of about 300 books and articles, from the beginning of Pakistan as an independent nation to the present year.

114. Bartholomew, John, ed.
The Times Atlas of the World, Mid-Century Edition. Volume II, South-West Asia and Russia. London, Times Publishing Company, 1959. Plates 25-48. (6/6/0) The last volume to be published in this accurate, up-to-date and magnificently printed atlas series.

115. Britannica Book of the Year 1960; Feature Articles. Chicago, Encyclopedia Britannica, 1960. 777 p. $4.95 This new volume of usual excellence, includes good articles on new independent nations, religions, Christian missions, Christian unity, and the major denominations.

116. Cheeseman, H. R., comp.
Bibliography of Malaya. London, Longmans, Green, 1959. 234 p. 35/- First comprehensive bibliography of Malaya and Singapore, containing nearly 2,000 items - books, reports, articles - in the English language, and covering a wide range of subjects. There is a section on religion, missions, and churches.

117. Christian Periodical Index; a Subject Index to Periodical Literature 1958. Compiled and edited by Ruth C. Butler. Buffalo, N. Y., Christian Librarians' Fellowship, 1959. 43 p. $5.00 Seventeen Christian periodicals, dominantly those of conservative theology, are indexed by subjects. Articles on missions and related subjects cover several pages. Will be issued annually.

118. Frei, Ernest J.
Bibliographies of Southeast Asia and the Pacific Areas: a Short Discussion. (Occasional Papers of the Bibliographical Society of the Philippines, No. 1.) Quezon City, University of the Philippines, 1958. 33 p. $2.00 A brief paper evaluating scholarly bibliographies on Oceania, Polynesia, Melanesia and Micronesia, especially the emphasis given to the Philippines.

119. Littell, Franklin H., and Walz, Hans Hermann, eds.
Weltkirchen Lexikon; Handbuch der Okumene im Auftrag des Deutschen Evangelischen Kirchentages. Stuttgart, Kreuz-Verlag, 1960. 1755 p. 58 DM Ecumenical Handbook, a one-volume encyclopedia of the world-wide church, edited by a group of German and American scholars, and including excellent articles on several thousand topics related to ecumenical Christianity and missions. A reference volume that will be widely used; should be translated into English.

120. Religions in Japan. Religious Affairs Section , Research Bureau Ministry of Education, Government of Japan, 1959. 136 p. An excellent handbook of information and statistics on religions in Japan, including well-prepared sections dealing with Protestant, Roman Catholic, and Orthodox Christianity.

121. Stoutenburgh, John L., Jr.
Dictionary of the American Indian. N. Y., Philosophical Library, 1960. 462 p. $10.00 Very useful reference book for students of American Indian history and life; over two thousand definitions. Based on several years of travel and research.

122. Talbot, Phillips, ed.
A Select Bibliography of Asia, Africa, Eastern Europe, Latin America. N. Y., American Universities Field Staff, 1960. 533 p. "The most useful books and journals available for college study and general reading about the civilizations of Asia, Africa, Eastern Europe and Latin America"; 7,544 titles, many of them annotated and priorities indicated. The work of many scholars. Indispensable bibliographic tool.

123. Wood, Hugh B.
Nepal Bibliography. Eugene, Ore., American-Nepal Education Foundation, 1959. 108 p. $2.50 All published western language materials about Nepal - her history, culture and present developments, to June 1959. Over one thousand items: books, pamphlets, magazine articles, etc. Compiled by an American educational adviser to the Government of Nepal.

See also: 36, 184, 200, 285, 333.

VI. AREAS AND COUNTRIES: (1) GENERAL; (2) MISSIONS, CHURCHES

A. NORTH AMERICA

124. Hancock, Ralph.
Puerto Rico; a Success Story. Princeton, N. J., D. Van Nostrand, 1960. 187 p. $4.75 Puerto Rico's amazing transformation over the past two decades, through a self-help program of economic and social uplift called "Operation Bootstrap." The author, a newspaperman, conveys not only information but also the spirit of the revived islanders. He thinks the hold of religion on the people is superficial.

125. Heising, Heldemar.
Missionierung and Diözesanbildung in Kalifornien. (Westfälische Geographische Studien, 14.) Münster, Geographisches Institute der Universität und der Geographische Kommission für Westfalen. 1958. 116 p. 6.-DM Roman Catholic missions and the formation of the Church in California, 1769-1954. One chapter covers missionary work among the Indians.

126. Lee, Rose Hum.
The Chinese in the United States of America. Hong Kong, Hong Kong University Press; London, Oxford University Press, 1960. 465 p. HK$35.00 A clear picture of the Chinese community in America is presented by a professor of sociology at Roosevelt University, herself a native-born Chinese-American. The author advocates total acculturation, assimilation, and integration of the Chinese into the American society. The rapid growth of the small Chinese Christian community, expecially the Catholics, is also noted.

Wright, Sir Almroth. "Oil Over Troubled Waters." Harvard Theological Review, 1914.

Zimmerman, Carle C. Family and Civilization. New York: Harper & Row, 1947.

Zimmermann, Arthur. Diplomatische Geheimnisse. Berlin: Ullstein, 1919.

Zinn, Howard. A People's History of the United States. New York: Harper & Row, 1980.

Zinsser, Hans. Rats, Lice and History. Boston: Little, Brown, 1935.

Zola, Emile. Germinal. Paris: Charpentier, 1885.

Zorn, Fritz. Marx. Munich: Piper, 1977.

Zuckerman, Harriet. Scientific Elite: Nobel Laureates in the United States. New York: Free Press, 1977.

Zuckmayer, Carl. Als wär's ein Stück Heimat. Frankfurt: Fischer, 1966.

Zweig, Stefan. Die Welt von Gestern. Stockholm: Bermann-Fischer, 1944.

Zweig, Stefan. Drei Dichter ihres Lebens. Leipzig: Insel, 1936.

Zweig, Stefan. Erasmus von Rotterdam. Vienna: Herbert Reichner, 1934.

Zweig, Stefan. Marie Antoinette. Berlin: Fischer, 1932.

Zweig, Stefan. Maria Stuart. Berlin: Fischer, 1935.

Zweig, Stefan. Sternstunden der Menschheit. Leipzig: Insel, 1927.

Zweig, Stefan. Triumph und Tragik des Erasmus von Rotterdam. Vienna: Herbert Reichner, 1934.

Zweig, Stefan. Verwirrung der Gefühle. Berlin: Fischer, 1927.

Zweig, Stefan. Vier Meister. Leipzig: Insel, 1928.

Zweig, Stefan. Zeit und Welt. Leipzig: Insel, 1943.

Zweig, Stefan. Zur Psychologie des Hasses. Vienna: Herbert Reichner, 1934.

Zweig, Stefan. Zwischen Gestern und Morgen. New York: Bermann-Fischer, 1942.

Zwerdling, Alex. Suburban Dilemma. Garden City, N.Y.: Doubleday, 1980.

Zwerdling, Daniel. Welfare Labyrinth. New York: Harper & Row, 1968.

Zwerdling, Daniel. Workplace Democracy. New York: Harper & Row, 1980.

Zwerdling, Daniel. "Workplace Democracy: Lessons from Experiments in Europe." Harvard Business Review, May-June 1978.

Zwerdling, Daniel. "Workplace Democracy: Lessons from Experiments in Europe." Harvard Business Review, May-June 1978.

Zwerdling, Daniel. "Workplace Democracy: Lessons from Experiments in Europe." Harvard Business Review, May-June 1978.

127. Mowat, Farley.
The Desperate People. Boston, Little, Brown and Company, 1959. 305 p. $4.50 Chronicle of the virtual extinction of the inland Eskimos of Keewatin District in the Canadian Northwest Territories; a tragic story, told with passionate sympathy.

128. Wedel, Waldo R.
An Introduction to Kansas Archeology. (Smithsonian Institution, Bureau of American Ethnology, Bulletin 174.) Washington, U. S. Government Printing Office, 1959. 723 p. $3.00 Detailed report on archaeological excavations in Kansas that throw light on the history of Indian tribes who once lived in that area.

B. THE CARIBBEAN ISLANDS AND THE GUIANAS

129. Hanke, Lewis.
Modern Latin America; Continent in Ferment. 2 vols. (An Anvil Original, No. 45-46.) Princeton, N. J., D. Van Nostrand. 1959. Vol 1: Mexico and the Caribbean. 192 p. Vol. 2: South America. 192 p. $1.25 ea. Volume 1 contains a keen analysis of the present situation and problems in Central America, Mexico, and the Caribbean, followed by 35 selected readings representing divergent points of view. Volume 2 concerns the continental lands and peoples of "Latin America," giving a clear, vivid exposition of political, economic, and social problems in the rapidly changing scene. Thirty selected documents are included.

130. Roberts, Dorothy Mary.
Mrs. Roberts visits the West Indies. London, The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, 1955. 64 p. 2/6 The wife of Bishop Roberts (S.P.G.), and Central president of the Mothers' Union of that Anglican missionary society, writes conversationally about her visit to several West Indian mission fields. Her main impression is the poverty of the people and the limited resources of the churches.

See also: 8.

C. LATIN AMERICA

131. Adams, Richard N., and Cumberland, Charles C.
United States University Cooperation in Latin America. East Lansing, Mich., Michigan State University, 1960. 264 p. $4.40 Description, analysis, and evaluation of 13 education and research projects undertaken by American universities in Bolivia, Chile, Peru, and Mexico. Study, financed by the Carnegie Corporation, was directed by two U.S. social scientists. One of a series by the Institute of Research on Overseas Programs.

132. Bailey, Helen Miller, and Nasatir, Abraham P.
Latin America; the Development of Its Civilization. Englewood Cliffs, N. J., Prentice-Hall, 1960. 818 p. $7.95 Wide-ranging panorama of Central and South American civilization, by regions and countries, stressing history, politics, social development, and cultural change. A chapter is given to the Catholic church and faith in the Spanish colonies, but there is almost no mention of modern Catholicism, or of the growing Protestant churches. Good bibliographies and index.

133. Davies, Howell, ed.
The South American Handbook 1960; a Year Book and Guide to the Countries and Resources of South and Central America, Mexico and Cuba. (Thirty-sixth Annual Edition). London, Trade and Travel Publications, 1960. 886 p. $3.00 A good "Baedeker" for South and Central American countries. Over 800 pages packed with up-to-date information for the student and traveler.

27. Moore, Wilbert.
The Conquered People. Boston, Little, Brown and Company, 1962. pp. c.1.0.
Chronicle of the virtual annihilation of the Yaqui Indians of Sonora in their in the Spanish Colonial Province; a fine study, full of rich detail.

28. Weber, Delia I.
An Introduction to Nahua Archeology. (Smithsonian Institution, Bureau of Ethnology, Bulletin 156.) Washington, D.C., U.S. Government Printing Office, 1954. 293 p. $3.00. Detailed report on archeological excavations in Nahua that throw light on the history of Indian tribes who lived in that area.

D. THE CARIBBEAN ISLANDS AND THE GUIANAS

Ancient Latin America; Continent in Ferment. 2 vols. (2nd impl. rev. ed.)
pp. 85-86.) Princeton, N. J., D. Van Nostrand, 1963. Vol. 1: Mexico and the Caribbean. 192 p. Vol. 2: South America. 194 p. $1.95 ea. Volume 1 contains a keen analysis of the economic situation and problems in Central America, Mexico, and the Caribbean, followed by 25 selected readings by Central American, Mexican, and the Caribbean writers representing different viewpoints of view. Volume 2 concerns the countries of South America and contains of "Latin American" giving a clear, vivid description of political, economic, and social problems in the most lively possible. Many selected documents are included.

Adams, Richard N. Cooperatives and Rural Development in Latin America. New York,
Praeger, 1963. 164 p. $4.50. Discusses the role of cooperatives in the economic development of Latin America, with special reference to Peru, Bolivia, Chile, Mexico, and Central America. Includes a bibliography.

Alexander, Robert J. Communism in Latin America. New Brunswick, N.J., Rutgers
University Press, 1957. 496 p. $6.00. Description and analysis of the Communist movement in Latin America, with special reference to Cuba, Guatemala,
Chile, Peru, Bolivia, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador,
Mexico, Panama, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, El Salvador, and the Dominican Republic.

Alexander, Robert J. Today's Latin America. Garden City, N.Y., Doubleday &
Company, 1962. 256 p. $1.45. Discusses the political, economic, and social problems of Latin America, with special reference to Cuba, Guatemala, Chile, Peru, Bolivia, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador,
Mexico, Panama, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, El Salvador, and the Dominican Republic.

Alexander, Robert J. Communism in Latin America. New Brunswick, N.J., Rutgers
University Press, 1957. 496 p. $6.00. Description and analysis of the Communist movement in Latin America, with special reference to Cuba, Guatemala,
Chile, Peru, Bolivia, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador,
Mexico, Panama, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, El Salvador, and the Dominican Republic.

Bailey, Helen Miller, and Nasatir, Abraham P.
Latin America: The Development of Its Civilization. Englewood Cliffs, N. J.,
Prentice-Hall, 1960. 672 p. $7.95. Two-region survey of Central and South American civilization, its regions and countries, stressing history, politics, cultural development, and economic growth. Emphasis is given to the Catholic Church and Faith in the Spanish colonies, but there is almost no mention of Catholicism, or of the Spanish Protestant countries. Good bibliographies are given.

Bemis, Samuel, ed.
The American Secretaries of State (1790); a Year Book and Guide to the Countries and Diplomatic Relations of North and Central America. Boston and Chicago. (Gilbert-Swift-Hunt
Company, 1960. 256 p. $3.00. A good
Trade and Travel Publications, 1960. 256 p. $3.00. A good Central American countries. Over 100 pages devoted to the United States for the student and traveler.

134. Geyerhahn, Stefan, ed. Text by Ellen Bromfield Geld.
Brazil; Portrait of a Great Country. N. Y., Viking Press, 1960. $10.00 A selection of 150 fine photographs, black-and-white and in color, depicting a variety of natural scenes and many aspects of human life and activity. Portrait of a growing giant. The introductory text is sensitive and moving.

135. Johnston, Marjorie C.
Education in Mexico. Washington D. C., U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, 1956. 135 p. $.55 A useful handbook of general information on Mexican education - background, types of education, levels of educational programs, statistical and tabular data.

136. Lewis, Oscar.
Five Families; Mexican Case Studies in the Culture of Poverty. N. Y., Basic Books, 1959. 351 p. $5.50 A vivid sampling of Mexican life, through the first-hand study of five selected families, four of which are in the lower income class. A new experiment in anthropological research, scientifically accurate and of high literary quality. A realistic and generally sad picture.

137. Matthews, Herbert L., ed.
The United States and Latin America. (N. Y., The American Assembly) 1959. 221 p. Background papers and report of the 16th American Assembly at Arden House, Harriman, N. Y., October 1959. Clear, informative and appreciative papers on Latin American culture, economy, communications, government and diplomacy.

138. Pendle, George, ed.
South America. (Reader's Guides, 3d Series.) Cambridge, Eng., University Press, 1957. 29 p. 3/- A brief guide to readers on South America; annotated lists of books with emphasis on travel, culture and literature.

139. Street, John.
Artigas and the Emancipation of Uruguay. London, Cambridge University Press, 1959. 406 p. 52/6 The first decades of Uruguayan nationality (1800-1830) during which Artigas became the national hero, sketched on a broad background of Latin American history. The past throws light upon the present.

See also: 129

D. EUROPE

E. AFRICA (SOUTH OF THE SAHARA)

140. Africa from the Point of View of American Negro Scholars. Paris, Présence Africaine, 1958. 418 p. $3.14 Seventeen distinguished Negro scholars, of the American Society of African Culture, produce a remarkable symposium on African art, dance, literature, and American Negro relations with Africa.

141. Africa Today; Classroom Enrichment Material. Maryknoll, N. Y., Maryknoll Publications, 1959. 68 p. $1.00 Supplementary material for classes in history, geography, and social sciences of elementary and secondary schools. The purpose is to show the African heritage and social life and to promote sympathetic understanding of Africa's new day. Well-arranged text and attractive illustrations.

142. African Taxation; Its Relation to African Social Services (Fact Paper, No. 4). Johannesburg, South African Institute of Race Relations, 1960. 29 p. 2/6 Facts showing that the taxation system for Africans in the Union of South Africa is inequitable. In spite of their poverty, Africans must pay for their own social services.

143. Albrektson, Arvid H.
Tariro. Tr. by Elsa Kruuse. Philadelphia, Muhlenburg Press, 1959. 220 p. $3.00 An absorbing novel about a young Christian woman in changing Africa, written in deft style by a missionary to Rhodesia of the Church of Sweden. Translated into English by a secretary of the Division of Foreign Missions, NCCC.

144. Biesheuvel, Simon.
Race, Culture and Personality. Johannesburg, South African Institute of Race Relations, 1959. 37 p. 3/6 A lecture delivered under the auspices of the South African Institute, on unique elements in African personality, with relation to the total culture pattern and inter-racial relations.

145. Changing Africa and the Christian Dynamic; a Seminar for Mission Board Executives. Chicago, Center for the Study of the Christian World Mission, Federated Theological Faculty, University of Chicago, 1960. Eleven ably written papers presented at an important seminar that brought together over fifty specialists on Christianity in Africa. Mimeographed and paper bound. A timely survey.

146. Changing Liberia; a Challenge to the Christian. Liberia, United Christian Fellowship Conference of Liberia, 1959. 121 p. The Liberia study on "Common Christian Responsibilities Toward Rapid Social Change," with a critical evaluation of the Church's role in national life and of its missionary witness and service.

147. Clutton-Brock, Guy.
Dawn in Nyasaland. London, Hodder and Stoughton, 1959. 192 p. 3/6 A well-known rural missionary in Nyasaland takes the side of the people in their opposition to federation with Southern Rhodesia and their determination to become an independent nation. He calls upon Christian missions and churches for unequivocal support of the national cause and dedication to the Africans' welfare.

148. Collison, William Norwood, ed.
Technical Assistance Seminar; Africa. N. Y., Technical Assistance Information Clearing House, American Council of Voluntary Agencies for Foreign Service, 1958. 15 p. Brief report of a seminar, with recommendations.

149. Conover, Helen F., comp.
Official Publications of French West Africa 1946-1958; a Guide. Washington, D. C., Library of Congress, 1960. 88 p. $.75 Survey of 508 French West African official documents issued between 1946 and 1958 (in French).

150. Cory, H.
The Indigenous Political System of the Sukuma and Proposals for Political Reform. (East African Studies, No. 2.) Nairobi, Dar Es Salaam, Kampala, The Eagle Press, 1954. 130 p. 3/6 Sukumaland is the largest homogenous inhabited area in Tanganyika, with one million people. The traditional authority of the chieftancy is now being lost. Social institutions and customs, and proposals for constitutional reform.

151. Fage, J. D.
Ghana; a Historical Interpretation. Madison, Wis., The University of Wisconsin Press, 1959. 122 p. $3.00 Brief, clear, interpretive history of Ghana from prehistoric times to the establishment of the free nation in 1957. Carefully documented. The author is a British writer and authority on Africa. Christian missions are mentioned.

152. Ford, V. C. R.
The Trade of Lake Victoria; a Geographical Study. (East African Studies, No. 3.) Kampala, Uganda, East African Institute of Social Research, 1955. 65 p. 11/- A geographical and economic study of the densely populated and productive marginal lands of Lake Victoria, with emphasis on trade conditions and trade products.

153. Greaves, L. B.
Everyman's Concern: The Rhodesians and Nyasaland. London, The British Council of Churches, 1959. 13 p. 9d Guiding principles for the discussions on freedom of the Rhodesias and Nyasaland, prepared by the Africa secretary of the British Conference of Missionary Societies.

154. Gruchy, Joy de
The Cost of Living for Urban Africans, Johannesburg, 1959. Johannesburg, South African Institute of Race Relations, 1960. 68 p. 4/6 Studies of the wages of African laborers in Johannesburg in relation to living costs. Over fifty per cent do not receive sufficient pay for a minimal basis of existence.

155. Hatch, John.
Africa Today--and Tomorrow; an Outline of Basic Facts and Major Problems. N. Y., Frederick A. Praeger, 1960. 289 p. $4.00 Some basic facts about the African continent and its various regions and countries. Useful information, but not very well organized and presented. The final chapter is on "Future Perspectives".

156. Horrell, Muriel.
The Economic Development of the "Reserves"; the extent to which the Tomlinson Commission's Recommendations Are Being Implemented. Johannesburg, South African Institute of Race Relations, 1959. 26 p. 1/6 The recommendations of the Tomlinson Commission are being implemented in a "well-nigh infintesimal" degree.

157. Ilsen, Jan.
Auch ich bin Mensch. Frankfurt a. M., Main-Verlag, 1959. 168 p. 7.80 DM The author gives an account in German of his experiences in East Africa and especially of his encounters with the mind of the African inhabitants. The title is taken from a poem by an African, Ray Antra, which states, "I am a man like you." The poem is reprinted in total in German translation. Many photographs are included.

158. Jarrett-Kerr, Martin.
African Pulse; Scenes from an African Hospital Window. London, Faith Press, 1960. 126 p. 13/6 The author, Anglican chaplain of a Christian hospital for non-Europeans in Durban, pictures moving scenes of medical service, and gives sympathetic insights into the social and religious tensions of a teeming South African city. "Something for your comfort."

159. Legum, Colin.
Bandung, Cairo and Accra. London, The African Bureau, 1958. 32 p. 2/6 A report on the First Conference of Independent African States, held at Accra, Ghana, April 15-22, 1958, and attended by representatives of eight free African nations.

160. Leuzinger, Elsy.
Africa; Kunst der Negervöelker. Baden-Baden, Holle Verlag, 1959. 231 p. $7.90 The native art of Negro Africa, in the "Art of the World" series, with history, sociology, and religious significance of African art. Characteristically thorough German treatment, with copious illustrations.

161. Leys, Colin, and Pratt, Cranford, eds.
A New Deal in Central Africa. London, Heinemann, 1960. 226p. 21/- Seven distinguished scholars contribute to this history of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland and an analysis of the critical problems that confront the area as Africa moves toward independence from colonial rule.

162. Lory, Marie-Joseph
Face a l'avenir; l'Eglise au Congo Belge et au Ruanda-Urundi. Tournai, Paris, Casterman, 1958. 210 p. A study in French of the Christian mission work in the Belgian Congo and Ruanda-Urundi. The author is a European professor of history and writes in a popular conversational style. Many photographs, maps, and charts.

163. MacKenzie, W. J. M., and Robinson, Kenneth, eds.
Five Elections in Africa; a Group of Electoral Studies. Oxford, Clarendon Press, 1960. 496 p. 55/- This book studies in detail the operation of elections in five different African territories in the years 1956 and 1957- Western and Eastern Nigeria, Sierra Leone, Senegal, and Kenya. An index and numerous plates and maps are included.

164. Mason, R. J.
British Education in Africa. London, Oxford University Press, 1959. 141 p. 6/- An analysis of the methods of education of the African people used in the British Colonies. Each chapter includes several questions for discussion. An appendix, outlining the managing body of an English school, is included.

165. Mukwaya, A. B.
Land Tenure in Buganda; Present Day Tendencies. (East African Studies, No. 1.) Nairobi, Kampala, Dar Es Salaam, The Eagle Press, 1953. 79 p. 2/- The Kingdom of Buganda on the western and northwestern margin of Lake Victoria is a region of high rainfall and agricultural productivity. An historical account of laws and customs relating to land, and proposals for the future.

166. Phillips, John.
Agriculture and Ecology in Africa; a Study of Actual and Potential Development South of the Sahara. London, Faber and Faber, 1959. 423 p. 63/- A book by a professor of agriculture in Ghana written out of a wealth of knowledge and experience, and for specialists, yet intensely interesting and important. What must be done to ensure Africa's economic progress in step with political advance.

167. Powesland, P. G.
Economic Policy and Labour. (East African Studies, No. 10.) Ed. by W. Elkan. Kampala, Uganda, East African Institute of Social Research, 1957. 81 p. 9/- A Study in Uganda's economic history.

168. Richards, Charles, and Place, James.
East African Explorers. (The World's Classics.) London, Oxford University Press, 1960. 356 p. 8/6 A "golden treasury" of selected writings by famous African explorers of the 19th century, including missionaries like Krapf, New, and Livingstone. These intrepid travellers became forerunners of western and Christian influence on the continent. Pocketbook edition.

169. Ritner, Peter.
The Death of Africa. New York, Macmillan, 1960. 312 p. $4.95 A realistic, pessimistic picture of Africa today and tomorrow, as the old society dies and national independence arrives for peoples not prepared. The author calls for large-scale American aid in order to prevent catastrophe.

170. Rothchild, Donald.
Toward Unity in Africa; a Study of Federalism in British Africa. Washington, D. C., Public Affairs Press, 1960. 224 p. $5.00 A comparative study of the three major federal experiments made inBritish East, Central, and West Africa, on the road to self-government. Frank analysis of the strong and weak points in federalism and the difficulties to be overcome. Carefully documented.

171. Sampson, Anthony.
Common Sense About Africa. (Common Sense Series, 3.) London, Victor Gollancz, 1960. 175 p. 6/- One of the "Common Sense" Series which offers an up-to-date non-technical introduction to the problems of the nations. This volume studies Africa (south of the Sahara) and considers the nature of the emerging "African personality".

172. Schulthess, Emil.
Africa. New York, Simon & Schuster, 1959. Part I: 133 plates; Part II: 127 plates. $20.00 An expensive volume of 270 extraordinarily fine photographs in black-and-white and color, showing the country, the people, the flora and fauna, of both North Africa and Negro Africa. Explanatory captions.

173. Scott, Michael.
The Orphans' Heritage; The Story of the South West African Mandate. London, Africa Bureau, 1958. 24 p. 2/- The author, well-known champion of African freedom, defends the right of Southwest Africa (mandated territory) to be heard in the United Nations.

174. Slade, Ruth.
The Belgian Congo; Some Recent Changes. London, New York, Cape Town, Oxford University Press, 1960. 55 p. $.80 A short study of changes in the Belgian Congo since 1945, with special attention to the evolués and the coming of independence in 1960. A few pages on Catholic and Protestant mission policies.

175. Sofer, Cyril and Rhona.
Jinja Transformed; a Social Survey of a Multi-Racial Township. (East African Studies, No. 4.) Kampala, Uganda, East African Institute of Social Research, 1955. 120 p. 16/6 Detailed sociological survey of Jinja, Uganda, 1950-1951, and a discussion of social problems in this important, industrial, multi-racial town. Brief notes on religious life.

176. Southall, Aidan W., and Gutkind, Peter C. W.
Townsmen in the Making; Kampala and its Suburbs. (East African Studies, No. 9.) Kampala, Uganda, East African Institute of Social Research, 1957. 248 p. 8/- Sociological survey of two areas in Kampala, Uganda; a thorough study of land and housing, economic activity, social life and marriage, education and religion. More than half the population is Christian -- Protestant and Catholic.

177. Thirteen Million Congolese. New York, Belgian Government Information Centre, 1959. 79 p. Publicity for the Belgian administration of the Congo; attractive pictures and interesting text.

178. Theobald, Robert, ed.
The New Nations of West Africa. (The Reference Shelf, Vol. 32, No. 2.) New York, H. W. Wilson, 1960. 179 p. $2.50 Over thirty selected articles from American newspapers and magazines, dealing with current events in West Africa and various problems of the newly evolving nations there. Contains some excellent material for study and discussion.

179. Tindall, B. A., ed.
The Journal of Joseph Tindall; Missionary in South West Africa, 1839-55. Cape Town, Van Riebeeck Society, 1959. 221 p. 28/- Joseph Tindall (1807-1861) was for twenty-two years an intrepid Methodist missionary, geographer, and linguist in South West Africa. This is his candid journal for about fifteen years and makes fascinating reading today.

180. Van Driessche, Jan.
L'Empêchement de parenté: étude comparative entre la legislation canonique et le droit coutumier africain. Bruges, Desclée de Brouwer, 1959. 311 p. Fr. 180 Scholarly book on African marriage, the impediments to marriage in African common law and in Roman Catholic canon law, and the problems of complicated relationships in African society as it is affected by western and Christian influences.

181. Venter, Frans.
Dark Pilgrim. Tr. by Gerald and Walter Gordon. Philadelphia, Muhlenberg Press, 1959. 255 p. $3.50 A realistic and moving novel about two South African brothers pulled from the countryside to the city slums and what happened to their bodies and souls. Despite the heroism of a white physican and the African family reunion in the last chapters, the book lacks the religious and compassionate note of Cry the Beloved Country.

182. Warner, Douglas.
Ghana and the New Africa. London, Frederick Muller, 1960. 181 p. 15/- Ghana in the first exciting years of national independence, realistically and yet sympathetically portrayed by a British editorial advisor to the famous African magazine Drum. He believes, "We can safely leave the future of Africa in the hands of the black man".

183. White, C. M. N.
A Preliminary Survey of Luvale Rural Economy. Manchester, Manchester University Press, 1959. 58 p. 8/6 Facts of agricultural economy in two districts of northwestern Rhodesia where the population is static and living standards are rising.

184. Whiteley, W. H., and Gutkind, A. E., comp.
A Linguistic Bibliography of East Africa. Rev. ed. Kampala, East African Swahili Committee and East African Institute of Social Research, Makerere College, 1958. 5/6 Lists of tribal languages in Tanganyika, Kenya, Uganda and the Swahili areas. Bibliographies of dictionaries and grammars, and a table of vernacular newspapers.

185. Wraith, Ronald E.
East African Citizen. London, Oxford University Press, 1959. 238 p. 9/6 A carefully written book on the teaching of citizenship in Uganda, Tanganyika, and Kenya. The author is fully aware of the political and social changes taking place and of the difficulties ahead. East Africa is compared with West Africa.

186. Yancy, Ernest Jerome.
The Republic of Liberia. London, George Allen and Unwin, 1959. 144 p. 10/6 A simply written outline history of Liberia, from the beginning of the 19th century to the present, portraying the struggles of the republic since 1847, and developments among the descendants of the American Negro colonists and the indigenous tribes. The Constitution of the republic is printed in an appendix.

F. NEAR EAST, MIDDLE EAST AND NORTH AFRICA

187. Briggs, Lloyd Cabot.
Tribes of the Sahara. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Press, 1960. 295 p. $6.00 A history of the great Sahara, its varied landscape and numerous tribes, described in vivid detail by a Harvard anthropologist. Tribal organizations, the author concludes, are breaking down and the next generation will see radical social changes.

188. Childers, Erskine B.
Common Sense about the Arab World. (Common Sense Series, No. 5.) London, Victor Gollancz, 1960. 192 p. 6/- A short but accurate and sympathetic description of the Arab world - history, modern transition, internal revolution, growing nationalism, relation to Israel, etc. The book challenges many current myths about the Arab peoples.

189. Documents Algériens. France, Délégation Général en Algérie, 1958. 117 p. A "Progress Report on Algiers," illustrated by handsome photographs and informative English text. Point of view of the De Gaulle government.

190. Doresse, Jean.
Ethiopia. Tr. from the French by Elsa Coult. (Ancient Cities and Temples Series, 3.) London, Elek Books, 1959; N. Y., Putnam, 1960. 239 p. $5.95 A new and different history of Ethiopia - legends, traditions and folklore as well as attested facts, with emphasis upon art, architecture, the "ways of the people," and the Christian island set in the midst of a Muslim sea. Well illustrated.

191. Gaitskell, Arthur.
Gezira; a Story of Development in the Sudan. London, Faber and Faber, 1959. 372 p. 42/- The story of economic development in the Sudan, from 1900 to 1957, with special attention to the Gezira scheme, a unique and successful irrigation enterprise.

192. Gökalp, Ziya.
Turkish Nationalism and Western Civilization. Tr. from the Turkish and edited by Niyaz Berkes. London, George Allen and Unwin, 1959. 336 p. 35/- Selection of writings by Ziya Gokalp (1876-1924), Turkish philosopher, regarding nationalism and its meaning in terms of Islam and western civilization, and the new program of "Turkism." Introduction and explanatory notes. Rich, scholarly content, but difficult reading in English translation.

193. Goldberg, Leah.
Little Queen of Sheba. N. Y., Union of American Hebrew Congregations, 1959. 96 p. $3.50 A beautiful, illustrated story about new immigrant children in Israel.

194. Grunwald, Kurt, and Ronall, Joachim O.
Industrialization in the Middle East. N. Y., Council for Middle Eastern Affairs Press, 1960. 394 p. $7.00 The authors are experts in economics who examine the manner in which 140.000,000 people in the Middle East are being drawn into the orbit of the modern industrial revolution. The first part of the book offers a general analysis and the second gives concrete studies of sixteen countries.

195. Hamady, Sania.
Temperament and Character of the Arabs. N. Y., Twayne Publishers, 1960. 285 p. $5.00 A psychological and sociological analysis by a graduate of the American University of Beirut, Lebanon, who has a doctor's degree from Chicago University. A largely appreciative appraisal, helpful to those who are trying to understand Arab attitudes and policies in international relations.

Helfritz, Hans.
The Yemen; a Secret Journey. Tr. by M. Heron. London, George Allen & Unwin, 1958. 180 p. 25/- Exploration of the heart of Yemen in southern Arabia; a travelogue that is full of interesting and useful information, as well as exciting adventures. Good illustrations.

197. Jones, Ruth, comp.
North-East Africa; General, Ethnography/Sociology, Linguistics. (Africa Bibliography Series.) London, International African Institute, 1959. 51 p. 1/15/- Covers a wide field of interest in the Sudan, Ethiopia, Somaliland. Second in the series, based on the Library of the International African Institute. Author index.

198. Karanjia, R. K.
Arab Dawn. N. Y., International Publishers, 1959. 191 p. $3.00 An analysis of the rise of Arab nationalism, especially since the Suez crisis of 1956. The author, an Indian journalist takes a viewpoint sympathetic to the Arab cause.

199. Kritzeck, James, and Winder, R. Bayly, eds.
The World of Islam; Studies in Honour of Philip K Hitti. London, Macmillan; N. Y., St. Martin's Press, 1960. 372 p. 50/- ($7.50) Twenty-two erudite essays on various Islamic and Near Eastern subjects, by eastern and western writers, published as a tribute to the famous American orientalist, Philip Hitti. Wilfred Cantrell Smith contributes a paper, "Some Similarities and Differences Between Christianity and Islam." A distinguished symposium.

200. Qubain, Fahim I., comp
Inside the Arab Mind; a Bibliographic Survey of Literature in Arabic on Arab Nationalsim and Unity. Arlington, Va., Middle East Research Associates, 1960. 100 p. $2.00 Bibliography of 96 Arabic titles, with full annotations, and 145 English titles, with briefer annotations. Author and subject index.

201. Shibeika, Mekki.
The Independant Sudan. N. Y., Robert Speller & Sons, 1959. 506 p. $7.50 A learned historical volume on the Sudan, from ancient times to independence in 1956, written by a professor of history in the University of Khartoum. Especially valuable are the chapters on Charles George Gordon and his mission. The past illumines the present of this new African state.

202. Shwadran, Benjamin.
The Power Struggle in Iraq. N. Y., Council For Middle Eastern Affairs. 1960. 90 p. $2.00 An attempt to interpret, in the light of internal and external forces, the development of events in Iraq from July 1958 to the present time. The author stresses the different values in the Middle East and in the West. Qasim would build nationalism from the bottom up, and as long as he has the army's support will remain in control.

203. Thesiger, Wilfred.
Arabian Sands. London, Longmans, Green, 1959. 326 p. 35/- An epochal book of exploration, by a British scientist, scholar, and traveler in Arabia, who lived intimately with the passing Bedu, and who vividly describes their life. He made two crossings of the enormous, arid "Empty Quarter." Striking photographs

204. Ullendorff, Edward.
The Ethiopians; an Introduction to Country and People. London, N. Y., Toronto, Oxford University Press, 1960. 232 p. 30/- A well-balanced introduction to Ethiopian history, geography, ethnology, language, literature, art, and religion. Interestingly written for the non-specialist by a professor at the University of Manchester who lived many years in the kingdom of Haile Selassie.

205. Upton, Joseph M.
The History of Modern Iran; an Interpretation. (Harvard Middle Eastern Monographs II.) Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Press, 1960. 163 p. $4.00 A specialized interpretation of Iranian history by a scholar who has spent fourteen years of intermittent residence in Iran. The author assumes some general knowledge of the subject on the part of the reader.

G. CENTRAL ASIA

206. Carrasco, Pedro.
Land and Polity in Tibet. Seattle, University of Washington Press, 1959. 307 p. $5.75 A scholarly monograph sponsored by the University of Washington on social conditions in Tibet. Monasticism, theocratic rule, succession by reincarnation, polyandry are all considered. Informative maps, and an extensive bibliography and index are included.

207. Franck, Peter G.
Afghanistan; between East and West. Washington, D. C., National Planning Association, 1960. 85 p. $2.00 A study of competitive trade and economic aid programs, of the Soviet bloc and the western powers that are wooing the allegiance and friendship of Afghanistan.

208. Li, Tieh-Tseng.
Tibet Today and Yesterday. N. Y., Bookman Associates, 1960. 324 p. $6.00 Well-documented history of Tibet by a Chinese specialist, with interpretation of recent events. The author does not believe that Tibet can be an independent state, and is favorable to the present Communist rule over the region.

209. Moraes, Frank
The Revolt in Tibet. N. Y., Macmillan, 1960. 223 p. $3.95 Historically balanced, yet devastating report on the Chinese suppression of the Tibetan revolt, by India's famous newspaper editor. Mr. Moraes makes an "agonizing reappraisal" of India's policy toward Communist China.

210. Wheeler, Geoffrey.
Racial Problems in Soviet Muslim Asia. London, Oxford University Press, 1960. 66 p. 6/- A succinct, objective study of the impact that the Russians and their civilization have made on the 15 million Muslim people of the Eastern republics of the Soviet Union - history, and Soviet policy toward Soviet and non-Soviet Muslim states.

H. SOUTHERN ASIA

211. Anderson, J. D. C.
Sindh: a New Venture. (Challenge Series, No. 5.) London, Bible and Medical Missionary Fellowship, 1959. 36 p. 1/- New and fruitful missionary efforts among the Khalis and Bihls of Sindh in southeast Pakistan, described by a missionary of the Bible and Medical Missionary Fellowship.

212. Azad, Maulana Abul Kalam.
India Wins Freedom; an Autobiographical Narrative. N. Y., Longmans, Green, 1960. 293 p. $6.00 Maulana Azad was an active worker in the movement for a free India and President of the Indian National Congress, 1939-1946. Today he is regarded as one of India's wisest statesmen. This is his fascinating autobiography that throws new light on India's development in recent decades.

213. Bansil, P. C.
India's Food Resources and Population (A Historical and Analytical Study.) Bombay, Vora, 1958. 252 p. Rs. 10 India's serious food problem - historical survey, food potential, outlook for the future, relation to population growth. A careful and cautiously hopeful study by an Indian political scientist.

214. Brecher, Michael
Nehru: A Political Biography. London, Oxford University Press, 1959. 682 p. 42/- Definitive portrait of a complex character, India's gifted leader; also, a valuable political history of India over the last forty years. Based on new researches and written in a lucid and graceful style. The author is Professor of Political Science at McGill University.

215. Callard, Keith B.
Political Forces in Pakistan 1947-1959. N. Y., Institute of Pacific Relations, 1959. 48 p. $2.00 A brief, factual, political history of the new Pakistan State: instability (1947-58), and military paternalism (1958 to the present). The appendices include important state papers of 1958.

216. Davies, C. Collin.
An Historical Atlas of the Indian Peninsula. London, Oxford University Press, 1959. 94 p. $.95 Forty-seven maps with explanatory notes, showing India at various historical periods from 500 B.C. to the present, and illustrating certain geographical, economic, cultural, and other features of the country.

217. Dean, Vera Micheles.
New Patterns of Democracy in India. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Press, 1959. 226 p. $4.75 India's peaceful revolution; the grafting of liberal western democracy onto India's traditional society; new patterns of government, diplomacy, technology, and community; described in an intelligent, sympathetic, lively way by the editor of the Foreign Policy Association. Strongly recommended.

218. Dutt, R. Palme.
India Today and Tomorrow. London, Lawrence & Wishart, 1955. 299 p. 5/- This book is an economic analysis and history of India from the days of British rule to the present ascendancy of Indian nationalism. The author, a member of the Communist Party, looks forward to the day when India shall become a part of the "Socialist family." A brief index is included.

219. Elwin, Verrier, ed.
India's North-East Frontier in the Nineteenth Century. London, Oxford University Press, 1959. 473 p. $7.30 Anthology of articles and papers on Assam a hundred years ago - tribal histories, geography, people. Includes " A Missionary's View of the Akas" (1867) by C. H. Hesselmeyer.

220. Eskelund, Karl.
The Forgotten Valley; a Journey into Nepal. London, Alvin Redman, 1959. 187 p. 25/- A famous Danish travel writer gives an account of his recent visit to Nepal with his wife and a young Nepalese student-interpreter. A map, index, and beautiful color photographs are included.

221. Foyle, Marjory.
Nepal: the Early Years. (Challenge Series, No. 4.) London, Bible and Medical Missionary Fellowship, 1959. 48 p. 1/- A missionary of the Bible and Medical Missionary Fellowship writes appealingly about the new United Medical Mission in Nepal and the beginnings of a church there.

222. Goetz, Hermann.
India; Five Thousand Years of Indian Art. N. Y.; Toronto; London, McGraw-Hill, 1959. 275 p. $7.95 The researches of a lifetime are embodied in this superior history of Indian art, including religious art. Many illustrations.

223. Gregory, Alfred.
The Picture of Everest; (a Book of Full-Colour Reproductions of Photographs of the Everest Scene). London, Hodder and Stoughton, 1954. 96 p. 8/6 Magnificent colored photographs of Nepal and the conquest of Everest, by the British expedition of 1953. Attractive explanatory text. A beautiful book.

224. Harrison, Selig S.
India; the Most Dangerous Decades. Princeton, N. J., Princeton University Press, 1960. 350 p. $6.50 A somber forecast of India's future, by an Associated Press correspondent. He believes that the Indian union may disintegrate and democratic freedom will disappear in a struggle of Communist and fascist-controlled states. What the West can do is limited. A book that will be hotly challenged.

225. McClelland, Grant S., ed.
India. (The Reference Shelf, Vol. 32, No. 1.) N. Y., H. W. Wilson, 1960. 164 p. $2.50 A collection of over thirty discerning and disturbing articles (from newspapers and journals), giving American and Indian views on India's critical problems ten years after independence.

226. Moraes, Frank.
India Today. N. Y., Macmillan, 1960. 248 p. $4.00 With a clear, analytical mind, and lucid style, the leading newspaper man of India describes his beloved country today and looks into the future. An unusually fine book, about India, by a son of India.

227. Natarajan, S.
A Century of Social Reform in India. N. Y., Asia Publishing House, 1959. 208 p. $3.25 Historical forces and personalities that have moulded the movements of social reform in India from 1818 to the present time. This study by an Indian newspaper editor is critical of British rule but favorable to British education and the humanitarian aspects of Christian missions. Significant book.

228. Panikkar, K. M.
Common Sense About India. (Common Sense Series, No. 4.) London, Victor Gollancz 1960. 174 p. 6/- One of a new series of introductions to various countries of the world, this book presents the problems of nationalism, democracy, and industrialization within India. The author is a prominent Indian diplomat.

229. Park, Richard L., and Tinker, Irene, eds.
Leadership and Political Institutions in India. Princeton, N. J., Princeton University Press, 1959. 486 p. $10.00 A pioneering study of Indian democracy, comprising articles by 29 Indian and American scholars, and covering a wide range of subjects - traditions of leadership, profiles of three eminent leaders, political institutions and parties, public administration, and village problems. A worthy production.

230. Reymond, Lizelle.
My Life with a Brahmin Family. Tr. by Lucy Norton. N. Y., Roy Publishers, 1960. 192 p. $4.50 Translated from the French, this is a true and exquisitely told story of life for several years in an orthodox Brahmin home of an Himalayan town. The authoress learned many new and strange lessons.

231. Riencourt, Amaury de.
The Soul of India. N. Y., Harper, 1960. 431 p. $6.95 The gifted young author of The Soul of China describes and interprets the long panorama of Indian history and civilization through forty centuries. A book of fresh insights, vivid style, and gloomy prophecies. De Riencourt believes that disintegration of the new nation is inevitable. Christian proselytism, he says, has largely failed.

232. Sekelj, Tibor.
Window on Nepal. Tr. by Marjorie Boulton. London, Robert Hale, 1959. 190 p. 18/- Nepal as seen by a Yugoslav explorer and anthropologist - a charming, ancient people standing upon the threshold of modern development, their government, culture, religion, and possibilities of change.

233. Smith, C. Ross.
In Search of India. N. Y., Chilton, 1960. 230 p. $6.50 How the Indian people live, "their humour and pain, their gentleness and cruelty, their beauty and ugliness, their life and death," as discovered by a young American scholar and traveler. Foreword by Associate Justice William O. Douglas. Written in journal form.

234. The Subcontinent of South Asia; Afghanistan, Ceylon, India, Nepal, Pakistan. (Near and Middle Eastern Series, 41.) Washington, D. C., Department of State, 1959. 72 p. $.40 Excellent summary of up-to-date information on the land, the people, government and politics, the economy, foreign relations, in these five countries.

235. Tresidder, Argus John.
Ceylon; an Introduction to the "Resplendent Land." Princeton, N. J., D. Van Nostrand, 1960. 237 p. $4.25 An impressionistic and artistic description of fabulous Sri Lanka, or Ceylon, the spirit of its history and culture, the uncertainites of its future. Bibliography and glossary.

I. SOUTH EAST ASIA

236. Armstrong, John P.
Southeast Asia and American Policy. (Foreign Relations Series.) Chicago, Science Research Associates, 1959. 67 p. $.75 Contrasts and contradictions; problems in transition; countries of Southeast Asia; American perspectives. A brief, popular introduction with over-simplification of vital issues.

237. Attiwill, Kenneth.
The Singapore Story. London, Frederick Muller, 1959. 253 p. 18/- A veteran of the fall of Singapore in 1942 offers a reconstruction of the event. He draws upon official dispatches, written reminiscences, personal memories. Many photographs, a map, and an index are included.

238. Barnett, David.
The Mask of Siam. London, Robert Hale, 1959. 189 p. 18/- A young British traveler on the highways and byways of Thailand looks behind the mask and finds a gay, religious, and fascinating people, with some weaknesses and many fine qualities.

239. Brooklyn Museum.
Indonesian Art. (Brooklyn) 1959. 18 p. "The art of Java is based on Hindu style coupled with a native genius for transforming the forms of the Island's plant and animal world into fantastic ornaments...The mark of Hindu culture is most notable in the dance and the theater of Java." Text and illustrations.

240. Dhingra, Baldoon.
Asia Through Asian Eyes. London, Thames and Hudson, 1959. 295 p. 28/- An unusual anthology: gems of literature and philosophy, stories, proverbs, epigrams of Asian peoples, revealing Asian attitudes to various aspects of the world and life. Good index. Beautifully arranged and printed.

241. Fischer, Louis.
The Story of Indonesia. N. Y., Harper, 1959. 341 p. $5.00 A popular, readable history of Indonesia and a study of its economic and social problems. The author concludes with a survey of the Communist threat and affirms that nationalism must give way to an understanding that "the proper purpose of politics is man." Helpful bibliography, index, and map.

242. Guide to Christian Work in Thailand. Bangkok, Church of Christ, 1956. 15 p. $1.00 Directory of Protestant missions, churches and institutions in Thailand, with a brief sketch of missionary history in that land. Illustrated. Useful reference booklet.

243. Hanna, Willard A.
Bung Karno's Indonesia. N. Y., American Universities Field Staff, (366 Madison Avenue, N. Y.) 1960. $5.00 A collection of 25 reports (separately paged) written in 1959 for the American Universities Field Staff, painting a grim picture of the political and economic crisis in Indonesia, and urging international supervision of all economic and technical assistance, if the country is to be saved from disaster.

244. Malaya; The Making of a Nation. N. Y., British Information Services, 1957. 67 p. This official publication contains all the essential factual and statistical information concerning the Federation of Malaya. Summaries of historical, economic, political, and social developments, and of the anti-Communist campaign are also given. Up-to-date reference book.

245. Martelino, Eduardo L.
Someday Malaysia. N. Y., Pageant Press. 1959. 79 p. $3.00 Inspired by Quezon's vision of a united Malay State, the author, journalist and press attaché in New York for the Philippine Government, appraises the economic, political, and social problems involved in the Pan-Malaysian movement, and presents favorable views of some Malay leaders.

246. Nitisastro, Widjojo.
The Government, Economy and Taxes of a Central Javanese Village. Ithaca, N. Y., Cornell Modern Indonesia Project, 1959. 37 p. $1.25 Important changes in Indonesian village organization and economy since the end of the colonial period. A cooperative study project by American and Indonesian social scientists 247. Ryan, N. J.

Malaya through Four Centuries. London and Kuala Lumpur, Oxford University Press, 1959. 162 p. $1.00 Forty selected passages in western and Malay literature, describing important incidents in the history of Malaya over the past four centuries.

248. Smith, Bruce Lannes.
Indonesian-American Cooperation in Higher Education. East Lansing, Mich., Michigan State University, 1960. 133 p. $2.50 One of eight regional studies, this one surveys American university relations with Indonesia, whose higher education had been tragically weak, in terms of Indonesia's needs and requirements. Historical perspective and good recommendations.

249. The State of Singapore. N. Y., British Information Services, 1959. 15 p. Economic and social progress in Singapore; constitutional development since 1948; the new Constitution; basic facts and figures.

250. Trager, Frank N., ed.
Marxism in Southeast Asia: A Study of Four Countries. Stanford, Calif., Stanford University Press, 1959. 381 p. $7.50 Professor Trager and his research associates have done an exceptionally fine piece of first-hand study and reporting on Communism in Burma, Thailand, Viet Nam and Indonesia. Dr. Trager contributes the introduction and summary.

J. EAST ASIA

251. Anderson, Ronald S.
Japan; Three Epochs of Modern Education. Washington, D.C., U. S. Department of Health, Education, & Welfare, 1959. 219 p. $1.25 A well-planned, effective survey of Japanese education through three epochs: initial modernization (1865-1937), wartime (1937-1945), and democratization (1945-the present), with emphasis upon recent changes in administration, curriculum, and methods, on various educational levels.

252. Araneta, Salvador.
Christian Democracy for the Philippines; a Re-examination of Attitudes and Views. Malabon, Philippines, Institute of Economic Studies and Social Action, Araneta University, Araneta University Press, 1958. 546 p. $7.50 Speeches and articles by Roman Catholic leaders in the Philippines, treating the application of Christian principles to practical problems of freedom, democracy, economic planning, agriculture, currency and foreign exchange, international relations, etc.

253. Barnett, A. Doak.
Communist China and Asia; Challenge to American Policy. N. Y., Harper, 1960. 575 p. $6.95 A comprehensive history and analysis of Communist China's foreign policy since 1949, and its implications for American policy, which the author believes is now neither realistic nor forward-looking. The best book yet written on the subject. Dr. Barnett was born in China and is a recognized authority on Far Eastern affairs. Lucid style.

254. Bary, Wm. Theodore de; Chan, Wing-tsit; Watson, Burton, comps.
Sources of Chinese Tradition. N. Y., Columbia University Press, 1960. 976 p. $7.50 Translations (mostly by the compilers) of Chinese sources that illustrate Chinese political, social, and religious thought from earliest times to the present Communist period, with informative introductory essays and commentaries. A remarkable compendium. Third in the "Introduction to Oriental Civilizations" Series.

255. Beardsley, Richard K.
Field Guide to Japan. (Field Guide Series, No. 3.) Washington, D. C., National Academy of Sciences - National Research Council, 1959. 55 p. Suggestions to anthropological researchers and writers in Japan on methods of field research, and survey and relationships with Japanese society and institutions. Interesting also for general visitors to Japan.

256. Callis, Helmut G.
China: Confucian and Communist. N. Y., Henry Holt, 1959. 562 p. $9.00 Professor Callis, of the University of Utah, analyzes China's cultural tradition, her historical development, and the present Communist regime. Includes a bibliography, a chronology, and some documentary excerpts which represent Chinese ideals, morals, and mores. The book can be profitably used as a text-book for an introductory course on China.

257. Chan, Wing-Tsit.
An Outline and an Annotated Bibliography of Chinese Philosophy. New Haven, Conn., Far Eastern Publications, Yale University, 1959. 127 p. $2.50 About 400 translations, books, and articles in the field of Chinese philosophy, ancient and modern, listed and annotated. Very helpful guide to available material in English for the student of Chinese historical thought. The author is a professor at Dartmouth College.

258. China and the United Nations. (National Studies on International Organization.) N. Y., Manhattan Publishing Company, 1959. 285 p. $3.00 Written under the auspices of the China Institute of International Affairs in Taiwan: the viewpoint of the National Government on China's participation in the U.N. and policies on major issues, including the critical question of Chinese representation.

259. Chou En-Lai.
On Present International Situation, China's Foreign Policy, and the Liberation of Taiwan. Peking, Foreign Languages Press, 1956. 31 p. $.15 A speech delivered on June 28, 1956, bitterly criticizing American foreign policy.

260. Cornell, John B., and Smith, Robert J.
Two Japanese Villages. (Michigan University Center for Japanses Studies. Occasional Papers. No. 5.) Ann Arbor, Mich., University of Michigan Press, 1956. 232 p. $6.00 Thorough and competent sociological surveys of two Japanese baraku or village units located on the Inland Sea, one a mountain community and the other an agricultural community, with special emphasis on social and kinship aspects and cultural changes. Photographs.

261. Dooley, Thomas A.
Deliver us from Evil. N. Y., Farrar, Straus and Cudahy, 1956. 214 p. $3.50 Dr. Dooley, as a Navy medical officer, helped in the evacuation of 600,000 refugees from Communist-controlled North Vietnam. Here is the brave story in his own words, written with freshness, humour and charity.

262. Duncan, James S.
The Great Leap Forward. Privately published. Distributed by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, Toronto (620 University Ave.) 63 p. 1960. Article by a Canadia business man, giving his frank and disturbing impressions of his visit to Communist China, first published in The Toronto Telegram. He concludes that China is powerful, controlled by an authoritarian government, and is making unprecedented economic advances.

263. Étiemble, René.
Tong Yeou-Ki ou, Le nouveau singe pèlerin. Paris, Gallimard, 1958. 393 p. $3.50 Account of a journey to Communist China in 1957; impressions of the culture, art, literature, and international relations of that rapidly changing land.

264. Fairbank, John K., ed.
Papers on China (vol. 13); from the East Asia Regional Studies Program. Cambridge, Mass., Center for East Asian Studies, Harvard University, 1959. 195 p. $2.00 Another fine collection of research papers in the Harvard China Studies Series. Of special interest is John Schrecker's "Watts O. Pye, Missionary to China."

265. Free World Forum; a Special Issue on China. Washington, D. C., Free World Forum, 1960. 67 p. $ 1.25 Meaty articles by Walter Judd, Walter S. Roberston Stanley Hornbeck, Richard L. Walker, and others, on western relations with Communist China, generally from a pro-Nationalist point of view.

266. Hatsumi, Reiko.
Rain and the Feast of the Stars. London, John Murray, 1960. 215 p. 16/- The old and the new, the traditional and the modern, clash in this readable story of a well-to-do, cultured Tokyo family. A window through which the reader can see the many tensions of Japanese society today. By a Japanese woman writer.

267. Haylen, Leslie.
Chinese Journey; the Republic Revisited. Sydney, Australia, Angus and Robertson 1959. 240 p. 27/6 Leslie Haylen is a Labour Member of the Australian Federal Parliament who visited China in 1948 and, again, in 1957. He describes the startling changes he witnessed, which he thinks are mostly for the better. Interesting, though strongly partisan.

268. Hudson, Geoffrey; Sherman, A. V.; Zauberman, A.
The Chinese Communes; a Documentary Review and Analysis of the 'Great Leap Forward.' N. Y., Institute of Pacific Relations, 1960. 79 p. $1.50
A most revealing study of the Chinese communes, based upon primary sources in Chinese newspapers and journals, by three British scholars. The communes have been "deprived of some of their more extreme characteristics," but still face serious problems.

269. Hu, Chang-tu, et al.
China; Its People, Its Society, Its Culture. New Haven, Conn., HRAF Press, 1960. 610 p. $1.00 This 600-page survey is a remarkable tour-de-force. The work of several distinguished Chinese and American scholars, it covers vast ground and is not free from weaknesses and minor errors, to be expected in such a large project.

270. Hughes, T. J., and Luard, D. E. T.
The Economic Development of Communist China 1949-1958. London; N. Y.; Toronto, Oxford University Press, 1959. 223 p. 22/6 Chinese official information on the present program of economic, agricultural, and industrial development; analyzed and interpreted by a British economist, now Research Fellow at Oxford University. Future advance, the author believes, depends on successful limitation of population growth, and control of consumer demands while capital resources are built up.

271. Jany, André.
Les tortures de la Chine. Paris, Mienard, 1958. 317 p. $3.75 Experiences of 300 Roman Catholic missionaries in Chinese Communist prisons, according to their depositions upon arrival in Hong Kong, between 1949 and 1958.

272. Kawai, Kazuo.
Japan's American Interlude. Chicago, University of Chicago Press, 1960. 257 p. $5.00 An astute Japanese political scientist and journalist interprets the American occupation period in Japan (1945-1952) from the Japanese point of view. An incisive study, on the whole favorable to the United States.

273. Kiesow, E. Margaret.
China the Challenge. London, Overseas Missions Committee, Presbyterian Church of England, 1954. 39 p. 1/6 An English Presbyterian missionary who was permitted to remain in China for four years under the Communist regime reports favorably on her experiences and her impressions of the new regime.

274. Maraini, Fosco.
Meeting with Japan. Tr. from the Italian by Eric Mosbacher. N. Y., Viking Press, 1959. 467 p. $8.50 The most intimate and discerning interpretation of Japanese thought and culture today, since Ruth Benedict's The Crysanthemum and The Sword. The author, an Italian scholar and photographer, was interned in Japan during world War II. Delightful reading.

275. Montaigne, Raphael.
China in Chains. Chicago, Franciscan Herald Press, 1958. 47 p. $.50 Lurid account by a Franciscan missionary of his experiences for over two years under the Chinese Communist regime.

276. Morris, Edita.
The Flowers of Hiroshima. London, MacGibbon & Kee, 1959. 169 p. 12/6 A poorly constructed, yet deeply touching, story of an American lodger in a Hiroshima home which still bore the terrible marks of the atomic bombing, and of love and courage that bloomed like flowers in the soil of suffering.

277. Research Group, Soochow University Law College.
Report on Juvenile Delinquency in Taiwan. Taipei, Taiwan, Soochow University Law College, 1959. 110 p. Competent research on a growing social problem among the youth (including well-to-do, educated youth) of Taiwan, by a group of teachers and students of the Soochow University Law College (Methodist institution, formerly on the mainland).

278. Ryosuke, Ishii, ed.
Japanese Legislation in the Meiji Era. Tr. by William J. Chambliss. (Japanese Culture in the Meiji Era. Vol. X.) Tokyo, Pan-Pacific Press, 1958. 741 p. ¥1,800 Important developments in public and private law, as reflected in edicts, government documents, and records; courts, civil and criminal procedures. Encyclopedic research, well printed.

279. Shinichiro, Takakura.
The Ainu of Northern Japan; a Study in Conquest and Acculturation. Tr. and annotated by John A. Harrison. (Transactions of the American Philosophical Society, held at Philadelphia for Promoting Useful Knowledge. New Series, Vol. 50, Part 4, 1960.) Philadelphia, American Philosophical Society, 1960. 88 p. $2.00 Erudite work of a Japanese historian on the Ainu aborigines of Hokkaido: the early period of clan government beginning in 1514, the war of 1669, direct Government control since 1799.

280. Tobata, Seiichi.
An Introduction to Agriculture of Japan. Tokyo, Agriculture, Forestry, and Fisheries Productivity Conference, 1958. 74 p. $1.50 Agricultural production in Japan, the use of technology, marketing and distribution, results of land reform. A fine, well-printed study by a Japanese economist. Tables and illustrations.

281. Wang, Li-ming.
Communist China Today. Hong Kong, Union Press, 1957. 101 p. $. 80 A brief, clear description of what has happened during the first seven years of Communist rule in China. Materials are drawn largely from the official mainland press, and reveal amazing achievements at cost of "appalling uniformity."

282. Watson, William.
Archaeology in China. London, Max Parrish, 1960. 32 p. text; plates. 52/6 146 striking photographs of recent (1949-1959) archaeological discoveries in China, exhibited in London under the auspices of the British-Chinese Friendship Association, with an illuminating introduction and full notes on the plates. The period covered is the Paleolithic Age to the Han Dynasty.

283. Wilson, J. Tuzo.
One Chinese Moon. N. Y., Hill and Wang, 1959. 274 p. $4.95 A leading Canadian geophysicist is the author of this delightful account of a journey through China in 1958. He met with Chinese scientists, visited the northwest provinces, argued with his hosts and guides, and frankly criticized what he did not like. In conclusion, he urges the U.S.A. to forget its fears and deal in a more creative way with the dynamic forces on mainland China.

284. Wint, Guy.
Common Sense About China. (Common Sense Series, 2.) London, Victor Gollancz, 1960. 176 p. 6/- One of a series of books planned as introductions to various countries without assuming special knowledge on the part of the reader. The author worked in China for the United Nations. He compares pre-Communist China with the present situation and urges a balanced view toward the new experiment.

285. Yamagiwa, Joseph K.
Japanese Literature of the Shōwa Period: a Guide to Japanese Reference and Research Materials. Michigan University Center for Japanese Studies, Bibliographical Series No. 8.) Ann Arbor, Mich., University of Michigan Press, 1959. 212 p. $5.00 Carefully done bibliography.

286. Yang, C. K.
The Chinese Family in the Communist Revolution. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Press, 1959. 246 p. $6.00 The only book yet published which devotes the greater part of its contents to the revolutionary changes taking place today in the Chinese traditional clan and family system. Based on Communist documentary sources in China. A very significant study. "It appears that the family system has irretrievably lost its position at the core of the Chinese social structure."

287. Yang, I-fan,
Islam in China. Hong Kong, The Union Press, 1957. 83 p. $1.00 Documented essay on Chinese Communist policy toward the Moslem community of ten million on the China mainland, and the extent of Moslem opposition.

See also: 7.

K. PACIFIC ISLANDS

288. Knox, Sydney C.
The Call of New Guinea. Kansas City, Mo., Nazarene Publishing House, 1958. 108 p. $1.00 Personal Journal (1954-1957) of a Nazarene husband-wife team, pioneer missionaries in eastern New Guinea. Evangelical zeal, colloquial style.

289. Lohse, Bernd.
Australia and the South Seas. Tr. by Kenneth S. Whitton. Edinburgh and London, Oliver & Boyd, 1959. 119 p. 25/- Unusually interesting travel book on Australia and the Pacific Islands - New Guinea, the Papuas, Fiji, Soma and Hawaii, with splendid photographs.

See also: 11.

L. AUSTRALIA AND NEW ZEALAND

290. Fong, Ng Bickleen.
The Chinese in New Zealand; a Study in Assimilation. Hong Kong, Hong Kong University Press, 1959. 145 p. HK$20.00 Excellent sociological study of the several thousand people of Chinese ancestry living in New Zealand and their assimilation. The author was born in China, spent most of her life in New Zealand where she was educated in English schools, and recently visited Taiwan.

M. GENERAL

291. "Changing Asia". Toronto, Canadian Institute on Public Affairs and the Canadian Broadcasting Corp., 1959. 117 p. $1.00 Meaty report of discussions in the 28th Annual Couchiching Conference. One section deals with "The Christian and the Religions of Asia."

292. Krouser, James Caryl.
Asia and the Middle East: Decisive Battleground of the Cold War. N. Y., Exposition Press, 1959. 162 p. $4.00 Report on an adventurous tour of the Middle East and Asia, and of interviews with many people, by an American engineer and publisher. Superficial and uncritical.

VII. CHRISTIANITY AND NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS; OTHER IDEOLOGIES

A. RELIGIONS OF PRIMITIVE PEOPLES

293. Harris, W. T., and Parrinder, E. G.
The Christian Approach to the Animist (Christian Approach Series, 6.) London, Edinburgh House Press, 1960. 64 p. 2/6 A brief, accurate introduction to the "religion of pre-literate peoples," - beliefs, ceremonies, magic, and fears; the liberating influence of the Christian faith. Illustrated from personal experiences of the authors in Africa.

B. THE GREAT NON-CHRISTIAN RELIGIONS

294. Ahmad, Mirza Mubarak.
Our Foreign Missions. Lahore, Lion Press, 56 p. The story of Muslim missionary expansion in different parts of the world, by a leader in the Adhadiyyah Movement.

295. Allen G. F.
The Budda's Philosophy. N. Y., Macmillan, 1959. 194 p. $5.75 The author, a Westerner who has been a Buddhist monk, offers an account of Buddhist Dhamma or doctrine. A large part of the book contains extensive selections from the Pāli Canon of the Southern School. Numerous maps, appendices, a glossary, and index are included.

296. ------, comp.
Buddha's Words of Wisdom; The Buddhists' Companion Book. Containing 365 Maxims and Utterances Attributed to Gotama Buddha, for Each Day and Night of the Year. N. Y., Macmillan, 1959. 88 p. $2.50 A unique Buddhist devotional book (in English), with brief quotations from Buddhist canonical literature for each day of the year. The author has lived as a monk in eastern monasteries.

297. Anderson, J. N. D.
Islamic Law in the Modern World. N.Y., New York University Press, 1959. 106 p. $2.75 Islamic law expounded as a living and changing social phenomenon; comparison with western law; laws of marriage, divorce and inheritance; contemporary trends in the Muslim world. Lucid, interesting analysis of a complex subject.

298. Basetti-Sani, Guilio.
Mohammed et Saint François. Ottowa, Commissariat de Terre-Sainte, 1959. 284 p. A new study of the meeting between St. Francis of Assisi and the Sultan Melek-el-Kamel (A.D. 1219), on the background of Christian-Muslim relations at that time. Based on thoroughly documented research, by an Italian Catholic scholar.

299. Calverley, E. E.
Islam: an Introduction. (School of Oriental Studies, Charles C. Adams Memorial Series, Vol. 1.) Cairo, The American University, 1958. 97 p. A sympathetic account of the Islamic religion by a lifetime scholar. The account is brief and in a popular style, with no index or bibliography, but containing many interesting anecdotes and interpretations.

300. China; Provisional Atlas of Communist Administrative Units. Washington, D. C., U. S. Department of Commerce, Office of Technical Services, 1959. 29 plates. $5.00 Maps of China today; 29 plates with geographical names in Chinese and also romanized; index.

301. Comber, Leon.
Chinese Temples in Singapore. Singapore, Eastern Universities Press, 1958. 110 p. $3.50 A guide to the five hundred Chinese public places of worship in Singapore, with a description of the most important ones, and a chapter on modern Chinese popular religion.

302. Dumont, Louis, and Pocock, D., eds.
Contributions to Indian Sociology, No. III. Paris, The Hague, Mouton and Co., 1959. 101 p. Gld. 6 Critical essays on certain living aspects of Hindu group religion, from a limited sociological point of view. Three important recent books in the field are carefully examined.

303. Eliot, Charles. With a Memoir of the Author by Sir Harold Parlett.
Japanese Buddhism. N. Y., Barnes and Noble, 1959. 449 p. $7.00 A former British ambassador to Japan, who has written extensively on Eastern religions, traces the development of Mahayana Buddhism in Japan and its relation to other faiths and social beliefs.

304. Gangulee, N.
The Buddha and His Message. Bombay, Popular Book Depot, 1957. 206 p. Rs 4.50 The quintessence of Buddhism - origin, history, development in various regions - with well-chosen readings from ancient and modern Buddhist literature. A book by a Buddhist layman for lay readers. Strongly recommended.

305. Garbe, Richard.
India and Christendom; the Historical Connections Between Their Religions. Tr. by Lydia Gillingham Robinson. La Salle, Ill., Open Court Publishing Co. 1959. 310 p. $3.50 First English translation published of the notable book by Garbe in 1914. This great German philosopher wrote a learned and vigorous argument, which has been challenged, for the thesis that Christianity and Indian culture have deeply influenced eachother through their long history.

306. Govinda, Anagarika Brahmacari.
Foundations of Tibetan Mysticism, according to the Esoteric Teachings of the Great Mantra Oṁ Maṇi Padme Hūṁ. London, Rider, 1959. 310 p. 30/- "Tibet is the last living link that connects us with the civilizations of a distant past." A spiritual teacher of modern Tibet opens to the world some of the spiritual treasures of his country, the esoteric mysteries of Tibetan Buddhism. Beautiful photographs of ancient statues, full glossary, and bibliography. Published originally in German.

307. Hayek, Michel.
Le Christ de l'Islam. Tr. and annotated by the author. Paris, Éditions du Seuil 1959. 285 p. Fr. 1200 This book, by a Catholic priest and Professor of Oriental Civilization at the Catholic Institute in Paris, is a collection of references to the story of Christ which are to be found in the Koran and other documents of the Islamic faith. The author's commentary is in French and all of the selections have been translated into French. Numerous photographs, a bibliography, and index are included.

08. Herrigel, Eugen.
The Method of Zen. Ed. by Hermann Tausend. Tr. by R. F. C. Hull. N. Y., Pantheon Books, 1960. 124 p. $2.75 The author was a German professor who taught philosophy in Tokyo and studied under a Zen master. The little book contains numerous essays, many of them hardly more than notes, on various aspects of this fascinating variety of the Buddhist religion.

09. Hussein (Husayn), Muhammad Kamel
City of Wrong; a Friday in Jerusalem. Tr. from the Arabic with an Introduction by Kenneth Cragg. Amsterdam, Djambatan, 1959. 225 p. Fl. 13,50 - (25/6) The author, a devout Muslim, offers a meditative account of the events that led to the Crucifixion of Jesus Christ. He attempts to explicate the attitudes which led men to desire the Messiah's death. An introduction by the translator helps to illuminate the nature of the argument for non-Muslim minds.

10. Jayewardene, J. R.
Buddhism and Marxism, and Other Buddist Essays. London, East and West, 1957. 93 p. $2.00 Sixteen essays by a Ceylonese statesman, interpreting Buddhist history and teaching and the relation of his religion to contemporary philosophies and ideologies. Buddhism, to him, is utterly incompatible with Communism.

11. Kitagawa, Joseph M., ed.
Modern Trends in World Religions. La Salle, Ill., Open Court Publishing Co., 1959. 286 p. $3.50 A group of western and eastern scholars honor Paul Carus, famous scholar of religions, (1852-1919), with essays on modern religious developments (including Judaism and Christianity). Islam is well treated; Hinduism and Buddhism are not adequately represented.

12. Miller, Robert James.
Monasteries and Culture Change in Inner Mongolia. (Asiatische Forschungen, Bd. 2) Wiesbaden, Germany, Otto Harrassowitz, 1959. 152 p. 20 DM The most complete outline study yet made of religious organization and the Lamaist monastic system in Inner Mongolia, based on earlier field trips and important primary sources in several languages.

13. Radhakrishnan, S.
The Brahma Sūtra; the Philosophy of Spiritual Life. London, George Allen & Unwin, 1960. 606 p. 42/- The great modern exponent of Hinduism as a philosophy and way of life here examines in exhaustive detail one of the three parts of the Hindu canon--the Brahma Sūtra. A long introductory analysis is followed by the complete text with detailed commentary. A thorough index, glossary, and selected bibliography add to the scholarly value of this work.

14. Religious Liberty, Tolerance and Conversion. Ontario, Department of Overseas Missions, Canadian Council of Churches, 1959. 29 p. Four perceptive papers, on vital aspects of religious liberty today - tolerance and conversion, the situation in India, Christian approach to other faiths, the attitude of faith missions. Valuable for reference and study.

15. The Resurgent Religions of Asia and the Christian Mission. (Papers of a Seminar for Mission Board Executives and Professors of Missions) Chicago, Federated Theological faculty, 1959. A dozen rich and stimulating papers on various aspects and problems of the Christian encounter with other religions.

16. Samartha, S. J.
The Hindu View of History - Classical and Modern (CISRS Pamphlets.) Bangalore, India, Christian Institute for The Study of Religion and Society, 1959. 36 p. The lack of historic sense in Hinduism and reasons for it; the Hindu conception of time; modern Hindu view of history and philosophy of action, leading toward a more positive outlook which makes possible the better understanding of historic Christianity.

317. Seckel, Dietrich.
Buddhistische Kunst Ostasiens. Stuttgart, W. Kohlhammer, 1957. 383 p. 39.00 DM
Mahayana Buddist art is as important to East Asia as Christian art is in European history. This magnificent volume covers every aspect of Buddhist art, architecture, painting, literary form, abstract symbols and typography.

318. Smith Warren W., Jr.
Confucianism in Modern Japan; a Study of Conservatism in Japanese Intellectual History. Tokyo, Hokuseido Press, 1959. 285 p. $4.00 A scholarly study of the influence of Confucianism in modern Japan. The book is detailed and technical, since it is based on a Master's Thesis. Extensive bibliography and index as well as numerous photographs.

319. Suzuki, Daisetz Teitaro.
Zen and Japanese Culture. (Bollingen Series, LXIV.) N. Y., Pantheon Books, 1959. 478 p. $8.50 The pervasive influence of Zen Buddhism on Japanese culture - art, literature, etiquette, attitudes to nature, national character. Comparisons between the abstruse principles of Zen and the teachings of Christ. By Japan's leading scholar in Buddhism; more profound than intelligible. Many reproductions of Japanese paintings.

320. ------.
Die Zen-Lehre vom Nicht-Bewusstsein. München-Planegg, Otto Wilhelm Barth, 1957. 147 p. 10.80 DM This book is a translation into German of a work by a famous authority on Zen Buddhism. In English the book was entitled The Zen Doctrine of No-Mind. The book pays special attention to the doctrines of a seventh-century Zen Buddhist named variously Hui-neng or Wei-lang. The author examines the Zen description of a state of consciousness preceding the split into self and nature.

321. ------, Fromm, Erich; and Martino, Richard de.
Zen Buddhism and Psychoanalysis. N. Y., Harper, 1960. 180 p. $4.00 This fascinating book presents three related essays on Zen Buddhism. Dr. Suzuki is an authoritative exponent of Zen. Dr. Fromm, as a noted psychologist, shows the relevance of Zen and psychology to each other. Richard de Martino adds another religious and philosophic dimension to the subject.

322. Wolff, Otto.
Indiens Beitrag zum neuen Menschenbild. Hamburg, Germany, Rowohlt, 1957. 152 p. 1.90 DM Indian contributions, through the dynamic universalism of modern Hinduism, to modern thought and religion, interpreted especially through the spirit and writings of Ramakrishna, Mahatma Gandhi, and Sri Aurobindo.

323. Woodward, F. L., ed.
Some Sayings of the Buddha according to the Pāli Canon. (The World's Classics, 483.) London; N. Y.; Toronto, Oxford University Press, 1955. 356 p. $1.65 An excellent introduction to the thought of Buddha. The basis for these extended selections included from the Pāli Canon is that they represent the Buddha as speaking directly in prose or in verse. A helpful introduction by Francis Younghusband is included.

324. The Zen Teaching of Huang Po on the Transmission of Mind; Being the Teaching of the Zen Master Huang Po as recorded by the Scholar P'ei Hsiu of the T'ang Dynasty. Tr. by John Blofeld (Chu Ch'an). N. Y., Grove Press, 1958. 135 p. $2.75 First English translation of a 9th-century Buddhist text, recording the paradoxical Zen teaching of the Master Huang Po, as recorded by one of his disciples. The translator's preface is more intelligible than the esoteric Zen philosophy.

125. Zürcher, E.
The Buddhist Conquest of China; the Spread and Adaptation of Buddhism in Early Medieval China. 2 vols. Leiden, E. J. Brill, 1959. 468 p. Gd. 58.-
The first attempt in a western language to describe the formation period of Chinese Buddhism (from the first to the fifth century) as a part of China's cultural and religious history. Based on a mass of early and partly contemporary source material, with copious notes. Stresses the adaptation of Buddhism to Chinese thought and life, especially in the gentry class. Praiseworthy research.

C. JUDAISM

126. Badi, Joseph.
Religion in Israel Today; the Relationship between State and Religion. N. Y., Bookman Associates, 1959. 140 p. $3.50 This book studies the difficult problem of the relationship between state and religion in modern Israel. The author argues that Israel is trying to effect a synthesis between its Jewish religious heritage and the requirements of a free modern democracy. A large appendix of relevant Israelian laws is included.

127. Diamond, Malcolm L.
Martin Buber, Jewish Existentialist. N. Y., Oxford University Press, 1960. 240 p. $4.50 The author, a professor at Princeton University, analyzes the thought of the great Jewish philosopher. The decisive influence of Kierkegaard is pointed out, and the book ends with a searching study of Buber's conception of the relation of the Jewish Jesus to the Christ of faith. Extensive notes, bibliography, index.

D. COMMUNISM

128. Bennett, John C.
Christianity and Communism Today. N. Y., Association Press, 1960. 188 p. $3.50 This book, by a widely-read professor of Christian ethics, represents a revision of his earlier Christianity and Communism. The author brings his analysis of East-West problems up to date by discussing the Eisenhower-Kruschev talks and the growing power of China. Three wholly new chapters are included.

129. Brzezinski, Zbigniew K.
The Soviet Blo ; Unity and Conflict. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Press, 1960. 467 p. $7.75 "The first full-length study of relations among the Communist states," showing the pattern of Communist development along different paths, yet with one central path, the Marxist-Leninist. In spite of ideological and economic ties, there will be a gradual decline of unity, the author believes.

130. Chambre, Henri, S.J.
Christianity and Communism. Tr. by R. F. Trevett. (Vol. 96 of the Twentieth Century Encyclopedia of Catholicism.) N. Y., Hawthorn Books, 1960. 125 p. $2.95 The uncompromising Roman Catholic opposition to Communism, vigorously expounded by a Jesuit professor in Paris, who is also a member of Catholic Action. He sees the Communist challenge to religion in general and to the Christian faith.

131. Gilbert, Rodney, ed.
Genocide in Tibet. N. Y., American-Asian Educational Exchange, 1959. 103 p. $1.00 A British specialist on Asian affairs summarizes the history of Communist aggression in Tibet, drawing largely from statements by the Dalai Lama after his escape to India.

332. Goodman, Elliot R.
The Soviet Design for a World State. N. Y., Columbia University Press, 1960. 512 p. $6.75 Professor Goodman, after studying a wide range of Communist writings, concludes that a Soviet world state is an explicit Communist goal and urges a supranational community with broad powers to meet this threat.

333. Hunt, R. N. Carew, ed.
Books on Communism; a Bibliography. London, Ampersand; Fair Lawn, N. J., 1959. $2.70 Essential Books. Bibliography of over one thousand selected, important books in English on Communism, country by country, with brief annotations. A helpful guide to the voluminous literature in this field. Not many books on the Christian attitude to Communist theory and practice are included.

334. Salisbury, Harrison E.
To Moscow - and Beyond; a Reporter's Narrative. N. Y., Harper, 1959. 301 p. $4.95 Star reporter Salisbury of the New York Times gives an intimate and revealing report of his visit to Russia and Outer Mongolia in 1959. He sees a somewhat "new" Russia coming into being, alongside the "enigma" and growing menace of Chinese Communist power. A "must" book.

See also: 32, 250, 253, 281, 283.

E. GENERAL AND OTHER RELIGIONS

335. Bairy, Maurice A.
Japans Neue Religionen in der Nachkriegszeit. (Untersuchungen zur Allgemeinen Religionsgeschichte, Bd. 3.) Bonn, Germany, Ludwig Röhrscheid Verlag, 1959. 135 p. 18 DM Japan's new religions in the post-war period; an informative and well-documented study written largely in Tokyo. German language.

336. Dechanet, J.-M.
Christian Yoga. London, Burns and Oates, 1960. 196 p. 21/- This unusual book is written by a Benedictine monk with the official Roman Church imprimatur. It attempts to dissociate the practices of Yoga from eastern presuppositions and to expound them in terms compatible with the Christian faith. Practical exercises with illustrative charts are included.

337. Eliade, Mircea, and Kitagawa, Joseph M., eds.
The History of Religions; Essays in Methodology. Chicago, University of Chicago Press, 1959. 163 p. $5.00 Essays by eight top-flight scholars in the field of "comparative religion." The best book to appear in a decade on methodology of studying history of religions. No index.

338. Gerstner, John H.
The Theology of the Major Sects. Grand Rapids, Mich., Baker Book House, 1960. 206 p. $3.95 An outline exposition and analysis of ten modern religious movements in the United States, with emphasis on the different sectarian doctrines. Charts, glossary, and bibiography; by a professor at the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. Helpful to those who meet such teachings overseas.

339. Quidan, Roger D.
The Doctrine of Jehovah's Witnesses; a Criticism. N. Y., Philosophical Library, 1959. 117 p. $3.00 This book is a rather strange and unusual one by modern standards in that it presents a long religious argument in blank verse. The poetic value is negligible and the arguments are not exceptional. The general theme is a negative criticism of the Jehovah's Witnesses' religion based on an extreme rationalism.

VIII. SOCIAL AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

40. Bloomfield, Lincoln P.
The United Nations and The Strategy of Peace. Cambridge, Mass., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 1960. 271 p. (mimeographed) The place of the UN in American strategy - while the cold war lasts and in the struggle for peace. A thoughtful and vigorous discussion of critical issues in internatinal relations and the search for world order, with concrete, positive recommendations that are open to debate.

41. Boardman, Eugene P., ed.
Asian Studies in Liberal Education. Washington, D. C., Association of American Colleges, 1959. 50 p. Papers on the development of Asian study programs at Harvard, Columbia, and the Universities of California, Chicago and Michigan.

42. Christians and Atomic War. London, British Council of Churches, 1959. 40 p. 2/- A discussion of the moral aspects of defense and disarmament in the nuclear age. By a group of church leaders representing the International Department of the British Council of Churches.

43. Brown, William O.
Race Relations in the American South and in South Africa; a Comparison of Backgrounds, Realities, and Trends. Boston, Boston University Press, 1959. 23 p. $.65 A sharply etched, vivid comparison, stressing essential differences. "The prospects for gradual and peaceful integration of the Negro minority in American society seem favorable, if not inevitable; in contrast, the drift in South Africa tends in the reverse direction."

44. Butterfield, Herbert.
International Conflict in the Twentieth Century; a Christian View. N. Y., Harper, 1960. 123 p. $3.00 The relevance of Christian ethics to the unprecedented world struggle of our time, with its irrational and tragic hates and fears. The author believes a détente is possible if we can achieve a dynamic restoration of New Testament Christianity. A little book with profound insights.

45. Chandrasekhar, S.
Hungry People and Empty Lands; an Essay on Population Problems and International Tensions. London, George Allen & Unwin, 1954. 306 p. 21/- A study of the problem created by rapid population increases in Asia. The author, a professor of economics who has been active in UNESCO, argues for liquidation of Colonialism, dissemination of birth control information, and development of scientific agriculture. An extensive bibliography and an index are included.

46. Christianity and Race Symposium. Dallas, Tex., Perkins School of Theology Journal, Spring Number: 1958. 58 p. This special issue of eight articles includes one by Alfred W. Wasson on "Race and the World Mission of the Church."

47. The Citizen's Role in Cultural Relations. Washington, D. C, International Educational Exchange Program of the Dept. of State, 1959. 35 p. $.20 Interpretation of cultural exchange programs in which American citizens may participate, both government sponsored and private programs.

48. Cleveland, Harlan; Mangone, Gerard J.; Adams, John Clarke.
The Overseas Americans. N. Y., McGraw-Hill, 1960. 316 p. $5.95 Valuable research that plows new ground - on the life, work, opportunities and difficulties of one and a half million Americans living overseas today. Reasons for success or failure, problems of adjustment, training programs for overseas assignments, and recommendations. Chapter 6 is on "The Missionaries."

349. Commission to Study The Organization of Peace.
Organizing Peace in the Nuclear Age; Report of the Commission. N. Y., New York University Press, 1959. 245 p. $3.75 This volume contains the Eleventh Report of the Commission to the United Nations' Commission to Study the Organization of Peace, and three supporting papers. It concludes that the inability of modern nations to defend themselves against surprise attacks necessitates the strengthening of the executive powers and authority of the United Nations. A chart on the classification of UN member states and an index is included.

350. Dilemmas and Opportunities; Christian Action in Rapid Social Change. Report of an International Ecumenical Study Conference, Thessalonica, Greece, July 25 - August 2, 1959. Geneva, Switzerland, Department on Church and Society - Division of Studies, World Council of Churches, 1959. 104 p. Reports of discussions on "Rapid Social Change" by a conference of 146 members, representing churchmen and laymen from all parts of the world. Cultural change; Christian responsibility in political action; economic developments; and community development in rural and urban areas.

351. Donnelly, Desmond.
The March Wind; Explorations behind the Iron Curtain. N. Y., Putnam, 1960. 256 p. $3.95 A British soldier and M.P. tells of his wide-ranging trips through Communist countries since 1952, and comments on the situation in various areas. He urges an imaginative and flexible foreign policy in western countries and a struggle for men's minds with Russia and China.

352. du Plessis, Wentzel C.
Highway to Harmony; a Report on Relationships in South Africa. N. Y., Information Service of South Africa, 1958. 28 p. The ambassador of the Union of South Africa to the U. S. attempts to justify the government's apartheid policy.

353. Dupreez, A. B.
Inside the South African Crucible. Kaapstad - Pretoria, H. A. U. M., 1959. 258 p. An elaborate theological defense of the South Africa racial policy of apartheid or "autogenous development," that will bring dismay to believers in racial justice and equality. Dr. Dupreez is an Afrikaner professor.

354. Emerson, Rupert.
From Empire to Nation; the Rise to Self-Assertion of Asian and African Peoples. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Press, 1960. 466 p. $7.75 A professor of government at Harvard University tackles intelligently and courageously a tremendous range of questions growing out of 20th-century political change, especially in Asia and Africa.

355. Fagley, Richard M.
The Population Explosion and Christian Responsibility. N. Y., Oxford University Press, 1960. 260 p. $4.25 A Protestant leader in international studies blazes a trail for realistic understanding of the "population explosion," and calls for "responsible parenthood." An important book that should affect church and government policies.

356. Faris, Donald K.
To Plow with Hope. N. Y., Harper, 1958. 223 p. $3.75 The desperate hungers of half the world's population; what is being done by U. N. agencies, voluntary agencies (including Christian), and national development programs. The dynamics of progress, a dramatic story told from first-hand observation and experience, with religious faith, by a missionary to China, now in UNESCO service.

357. Fenichell, Stephen S.
The United Nations; Design for Peace. N. Y., Holt, Rinehart, and Winston, 1960. 144 p. $3.25 One of the best books yet produced on the many-sided, far-flung work of the UN, with more than 100 fine photographs. Emphasizes the UN role in international peace and understanding.

358. Hans, Nicholas.
Comparative Education; a Study of Educational Factors and Traditions. London, Routledge & Kegan Paul, 1958. 333 p. 23/- An up-to-date textbook for students of educational history, with illustrative material from England, the U.S.A., France, and the U.S.S.R. Factors affecting comparative education are discussed: national - racial, geographic, linguistic; religious - European, Anglican, and Puritan traditions; secular - humanism, socialism, nationalism, democracy.

359. Hayes, Samuel P., Jr.
Measuring the Results of Development Projects; a Manual for the Use of Field Workers. Paris, UNESCO, 1959. 100 p. $2.00 Techniques for measuring the effectiveness of social development projects in underpriviliged countries, and ways of guiding them toward increased effectiveness; the importance of clear goals, scientific methods of acquiring data, and careful review and interpretation. Written from practical experience.

360. Hoffman, Paul G.
One Hundred Countries, One and One Quarter Billion People; How to Speed Their Economic Growth--and Ours--in the 1960's. Washington, D. C., Albert D. and Mary Lasker Foundation, 1960. 62 p. $.50 One hundred under-developed countries - their low standards of living; how to accelerate their economic growth; how to administer technical aid through the U.N. and International Development Association. A positive program by a well-known corporation executive who has been active in international affairs.

361. Koestler, Arthur.
The Sleepwalkers; a History of Man's Changing Vision of the Universe. London, Hutchinson, 1959. 624 p. 1/15/- The author, a well-known novelist, presents a detailed study of the change in scientific thinking caused by Copernicus, Kepler, and Galileo. He suggests the need for an analogous change in scientific thinking today which will release man from enslavement to numerical aspects of reality. Well indexed, with a selected bibliography and introduction by Herbert Butterfield.

362. Lacey, Janet.
Refugees. London, Edinburgh House Press, 1959. 36 p. 2/- Brief pamphlet summarizing the refugee problem and need in today's world, by the Director of the British Inter-church Aid and Refugee Service.

363. MacMillan, W. M.
The Road to Self-Rule; a Study in Colonial Evolution. London, Faber & Faber, 1959. 296 p. 35/- The history of modern colonies, "empire as moral responsibility," the road to self-government, the lack of leadership especially in Africa ("the black man's burden"). A book for both the specialist and the general reader.

364. Maury, Philippe.
Politics and Evangelism. Garden City, N. Y., Doubleday, 1959. 120 p. $2.95 A searching examination of the course that the Church should take, between the extremes of withdrawal from society and excessive involvement in political action. "Political action" as one "language of evangelism" and the Christian role in reconstruction and reconciliation. By the able secretary of the World Student Christian Federation.

365. The Mid-Century Challenge to U. S. Foreign Policy; Panel 1 Report of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund Special Studies Project. (America at Mid-Century Series.) Garden City, N. Y., Doubleday, 1959. 74 p. $.75 Assessment of the major problems in U. S. foreign policy, by a group of distinguished public citizens. The report, suggesting new attitudes and approaches, attracted wide attention when first published.

366. Pauw, B. A.
Religion in a Tswana Chiefdom. London, Oxford University Press, 1960. 258 p. 38/- The best social and religious "study in depth" yet published on Christianity and paganism in a selected African rural society. An intensive survey and interpretation of all types of churches among the Tlhaping people of South Africa, supplementing similar researches by Sundkler and Taylor. The author is a missionary anthropologist. Recommended to all libraries and scholars of missions.

367. Pearson, Lester B.
Diplomacy in the Nuclear Age. Cambridge, Mass., Harvard University Press, 1959. 114 p. $2.75 The author, former president of the United Nations Assembly and Nobel Peace Prize winner, stresses the importance of diplomacy and negotiation through regular diplomatic channels, and the need for fresh approaches in international relations.

368. Pike, Esther, ed.
Who Is My Neighbor? Greenwich, Conn., The Seabury Press, 1960. 230 p. $3.50 A fresh treatment of the social application of Christianity: fourteen vivid essays on unfortunate and needy types of persons, in America and overseas, who call for Christian understanding and help. An absorbing book, written out of actual experiences; edited by the gifted wife of California's Bishop Pike.

369. Pienaar, S., and Sampson, Anthony.
South Africa; Two Views of Separate Development. N. Y., Oxford University Press, 1960. 81 p. $1.25 Arguments for and against complete racial separation in South Africa, cogently presented by two newspaper editors; a good-tempered encounter of widely divergent viewpoints.

370. Ratkovich, Manojlo.
The World Mission of the United States. N. Y., Greenwich Book Publishers, 1959. 125 p. $2.75 The author, born in Yugoslavia, and now a refugee writer in the United States, urges various utopian solutions to the world crisis - limitation of population, large-scale American aid overseas, and the destruction of Communism. He is devoted to the American democratic ideal.

371. Richards, Charles Granston, ed.
The Provision of Popular Reading Materials. (Monographs on Fundamental Education, XII.) Paris, UNESCO, 1959. Literature must follow literacy: UNESCO studies and technical papers on the production of reading materials, international organizations at work, and various research projects. A comprehensive volume of information.

372. Robbins, John.
Too Many Asians. Garden City, N. Y., Doubleday, 1959. 214 p. $3.95 A newspaperman offers the result of studies made in Asia under an Ogden Reid Fellowship. The author considers the problem of the so-called "population explosion" and the uses made of this problem by the Communists. New kinds of economic aids, educational campaigns, and biological research are presented as urgent and immediate necessities.

373. Scott, John.
Democracy Is Not Enough; a Personal Survey of the Hungry World. N. Y., Harcourt, Brace and Co., 1960. 186 p. $3.95 Trenchant observations about scores of nations and territories of Asia, Africa, and Latin America - the "hungry world" which needs much more democracy from the West. The author, a Time reporter, traveled widely and talked with people of all races, classes, and vocations. He calls for constructive plans and actions to meet the needs of underdeveloped peoples.

374. Sherrard, O. A.
Freedom from Fear; the Slave and his Emancipation. London, The Bodley Head, 1959. 200 p. 18/- A fascinating account of slavery which begins with conditions in ancient Greece and Rome and then examines the slave trade of the 17th and 18th centuries in detail. The author argues for the beneficial influence of Christianity in destroying this evil, and also urges that England is to be regarded as a great enemy of this moral scourge.

375. Strachey, John.
The End of Empire. N. Y., Random House, 1959. 351 p. $5.00 The author, a member of British Parliament since 1945 and an advocate of a democratic socialist point of view, here studies the problems that Britain faces because of the loss of her empire. He argues that greatness is possible without imperialism.

376. Thompson, Kenneth W.
Christian Ehtics and the Dilemmas of Foreign Policy. Durham, N. C., Duke University Press, 1959. 148 p. $3.50 Is the Christian ethic relevant to the conduct of foreign policy? The Associate Director for Social Sciences at the Rockefeller Foundation argues cogently for the affirmative, while criticizing various current philosophies that are more moralistic than realistic.

377. Thomson, David.
The Government of Divided Communities. (The Fourteenth Hoernlé Memorial Lecture.) Johannesburg, South Africa Institute of Race Relations, 1958. 15 p. 2/6 A study of trends in national governments of multiracial populations and of international organization and cooperation. Dr. Thomson is a British professor and a writer on political science.

378. United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.
The Race Question in Modern Science. London, Sidgwick and Jackson, 1959 (1956). 373 p. 20/- At the request of UNESCO, prominent scientists summarize the results of studies on race prejudice in their special fields - psychology, culture, history, biology, society, etc. The writers conclude that racial doctrines are anti-rational against the humanist tradition of civilization.

379. Ward W. E. F.
Educating Young Nations. London, George Allen & Unwin; Fair Lawn, N. J., Essential Books, 1959. 194 p. 15/- This book discusses some of the problems met with in educating the peoples of colonies and other young nations of Africa and Asia. The author has been an educator in Ghana and offers an analysis based on a wealth of personal experience.

380. Winter, E. H.
Bwambe Economy; the Development of a Primitive Subsistence Economy in Uganda. (East African Studies, No. 5.) Kampala, Uganda, East African Institute of Social Research, 1955. 43 p. 7/- Factual survey of economic conditions in the Bwamba area of western Uganda, a hot and humid region. Agricultural data are not included.

381. Wood, John S.
Whose World? A Handbook on International Relations. N. Y., Friendship Press, 1960. 80 p. $1.00 What the individual person can do as a Christian in the complicated area of international relations. A fine little handbook of facts and ideas, for reading and discussion.

382. Young, Wayland.
Strategy for Survival; First Steps in Nuclear Disarmament. Baltimore, Md., Penguin Books, 1959. 94 p. $.65 The increasingly terrible possibility of nuclear and germ warfare, and a frank, critical examination of proposed ways out of the serious situation. The author favors complete prohibition of atomic weapons and bases.

IX. ANTHROPOLOGY AND RELATED SUBJECTS

383. Casagrande, Joseph B., ed.
In the Company of Man; Twenty Portraits by Anthropologists. N. Y., Harper, 1960. 540 p. $6.50 Close-ups of anthropological method through intimate personality sketches of individuals with whom the twenty authors were associated in their studies. The book covers a wide variety of persons and cultures. Very interesting.

384. Eglar, Zekiye.
A Punjabi Village in Pakistan. N. Y., Columbia University Press, 1960. 240 p. $6.00 A most discriminating and enlightening anthropological study of the village of Mohla in West Pakistan, with special emphasis on family and caste relationships and the complex social pattern which is slowly changing in the context of modern civilization. The author is a Muslim woman scholar.

385. Foster, George M.
Culture and Conquest: America's Spanish Heritage. (Viking Fund Publications in Anthropology, 27.) N. Y., Wenner-Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research, Inc. 1960. 272 p. $5.00 Acculturation in the 16th-century Spanish conquest of much of America; an anthropological study of present-day mixed Spanish-Indian patterns in agriculture, arts, clothing, family life, religion, feast days, etc.

386. Freedman, Maurice
Lineage Organization in Southeastern China. London, University of London, The Athlone Press, 1958. 151 p. $5.00 Studies of the Chinese community in Singapore (1949-1950), which led to an interest in its southeastern China homeland and the interpretation of village society, family lineage, and political relationships there during the past 150 years. Significant social anthropology.

387. Freeman, J. D., and Geddes, W. R., eds.
Anthropology in the South Seas; Essays Presented to H. D. Skinner. New Plymouth, New Zealand, Thomas Avery, 1959. 267 p. 42/- A collection of eleven essays and a memoir in honor of the "Dean of Polynesian ethnologists." The contributors are all students or colleagues of Dr. Skinner and their essays cover a wide range of anthropological interests in the area of the South Seas. A Chronological bibliography of the works of Dr. Skinner from 1912 to 1958 is included.

388. Fürer-Haimendorf, Elizabeth von, comp.
An Anthropological Bibliography of South Asia together with a Directory of Recent Anthropological Field Work. (Le monde d'outre-mer passé et présent. Quatrième Série: Bibliographies III.) Paris, The Hague, Mouton & Co., 1958. 748 p. Fr.76.oo Materials in western languages that deal with physical, cultural, and social anthropology, dulture, folklore., arts, etc. of the peoples of India, Pakistan, and Ceylon. Over five thousand items - books, pamphlets, and magazine articles - are listed.

...ney for Survival; Tribal Styles in Music and Dance. Bibliography. Indexes. Imprint Books, 1975. 24 p. $0.95. The bibliography includes books, articles and term papers, and a thesis, critical examination of proposed ways out of the serious situation. The author favors complete prohibition of abortion and hopes.

IX. ANTHROPOLOGY AND RELATED SUBJECTS

In the Company of Man: Twenty Portraits by Anthropologists. M. Y., Harper, 1960. 510 p. $6.50 Close-ups of anthropological work through intimate personality sketches of individuals with whom the authors have researched in their studies. The book covers a wide variety of persons and cultures.

Bohannan, Paul.
Tiv Economy. Evanston: Northwestern University Press, 1968. 240 p. $4.00 A most discerning and enlightening anthropological study of the village of Mbaiin Gbeko, with special emphasis on family and trade relationships and the complex social systems existing in close proximity in the context of modern civilization. The author is a leading scholar.

Culture and Conquest: America's Spanish Heritage. (Viking Fund Publications in Anthropology, 27.) N. Y., Wenner-Gren Foundation for Anthropological Research, Inc. 1960. 272 p. $5.00 Contributions in the Viking-Sponsored Symposium of Mexico; an anthropological study of present-day rural Spanish-Indian patterns in agriculture, arts, citizenship, family life, religion, feasts, etc.

Freedman, Maurice
Chinese Organization in Southeastern China. London, University of London, The Athlone Press, 1958. 151 p. $5.00 Studies of the Chinese community in Singapore (1819-1950), which led to an interest in its social system and family and the interpretation of village society, family lineage, and political relationships there during the past 150 years. Influential social anthropology.

Freeman, I. D., and Geddes, W. R., eds.
Anthropology in the South Seas; Essays Presented to H. D. Skinner. New Plymouth, New Zealand, Thomas Avery, 1959. 367 p. Index. A collection of eleven essays and a memoir in honor of the "Dean of Polynesian ethnologists." The contributions are all studies or critiques of Dr. Skinner and his essays cover a wide range of anthropological interests in the South Seas or the South Seas. A Bibliographical bibliography of the works of Dr. Skinner from 1922 to 1959 is included.

Gluckman, Max, ed.
Ethnography of Southern Africa. Oxford, Basil Blackwell, 1951. 1 p. Bibliography. Indexes. Twenty-eight anthropological field reports. (See Bantu-speaking peoples.)

Gumperz, Dexter: Bibliographies. Index. Tables, Maps & Charts. 1961. 1 p. $7.50 Interesting in western Europe as well as in Asia and Africa. Cultural and social anthropology, folklore, politics, etc. of the Indian Peninsula, and Ceylon. Over 2,500 items - books, and magazine articles - are listed.

389. Goldschmidt, Walter.
Man's Way; a Preface to the Understanding of Human Society. Cleveland and N. Y., World Publishing Co., 1959. 253 p. $4.25 Analytical and comparative study of human societies and cultures in their evolution, from an anthropological viewpoint and with emphasis on the "social imperative" (necessary feature of social organization). Stimulating ideas. By the editor of the American Anthropologist.

390. Herkovits, Melville J. and Frances S.
Dahomean Narrative; a Cross-cultural Analysis. Evanston, Ill., Northwestern University Press, 1958. 490 p. $6.50 Collection of 155 popular myths and tales from Dahomey, West Africa, with introduction by a husband-wife anthropelogical team, interpreting the meaning of oral narratives in the context of African culture. A fascinating study.

391. Laguna, Frederica, de
The Story of a Tlingit Community: a Problem in the Relationship between Archeological, Ethnological, and Historical Methods. (Smithsonian Institution, Bureau of American Ethnology, Bulletin 172.) Washington, D. C., U. S. Government Printing Office, 1960. 254 p. $2.00 Archaeological and ethnological study of the Angoon people in southeastern Alaska. Missionary activities are briefly mentioned.

392. Leach, E. R., ed.
Aspects of Caste in South India, Ceylon and North-West Pakistan. (Cambridge Papers in Social Anthropology, 2.) Cambridge, Eng., University Press, 1960. 147 p. 18/6; $3.50 Five Cambridge University anthropologists contribute essays growing out of their studies on caste in Ceylon, India, and Pakistan. Significant, first-hand research.

393. Lee, Dorothy D.
Freedom and Culture; Essays. (A Spectrum Book. S-6.) Engelwood Cliffs, N. J., Prentice-Hall, 1959. 179 p. $1.95 A collection of brilliant, informative essays by a skilled anthropologist. The author uses the insights of modern anthropological study to help illuminate such problems as freedom, existence, the individual in society, and religion. Selected bibliographies are attached to each article.

394. Mayer, Adrian C.
Caste and Kinship in Central India; a Village and its Region. Berkeley and Los Angeles, Calif., University of California Press, 1960. 295 p. $6.00
A searching sociological study of Ramkheri village, near Indore, in central India, with special attention to inter-caste relationships. Of interest to anthropologists and students of social change in all countries.

395. Mead, Margaret.
People and Places. Cleveland, and N. Y., World Publishing Co., 1959. 318 p. $4.95 A fine introductory book for young people (and adults also) by the eminent anthropologist. The author talks about man as man, the humanity that makes all people kin, and the problems yet to be solved. Five cultural groups are described in particular - The Eskimo, Indians of the Plains, Balinese, Monoans, and Ashanti. Handsomely illustrated in color and in black and white.

396. ------, ed.
Cultural Patterns and Technical Change. (Paris), UNESCO, 1953. 348 p. $2.50
A technical manual edited by a famous anthropologist for the World Federation for Mental Health. It is particularly concerned with the stresses caused by the introduction of modern techniques into non-industrialized countries. A good index and detailed bibliography are included.

397. Middelkoop, P.
Curse, Retribution, Enmity; as Data in Natural Religion, Especially in Timor, Confronted with the Scripture. Amsterdam, Jacob Van Campen, 1960. 168 p. A Dutch missionary to Indonesia reports, from long observation and experience, on the widespread belief in the "curse power" of certain tribes, and relates this to Old Testament teachings. He would supplant "curse-fear" by faith in Jesus Christ.

398. Murdock, George Peter.
Africa; Its Peoples and their Culture History. N. Y., McGraw-Hill, 1959. 456 p. $8.75 A priceless survey of thousands of tribes and indigenous cultures on the African continent - history, social organizations, food habits, languages, occupations. Invaluable reference volume; good bibliographies. The author is professor of anthropology at Yale University.

399. Okladnikov, A. P.
Ancient Population of Siberia and Its Cultures. (Russian Translation Series of The Peabody Museum of Archaeology and Ethnology, Harvard University, Vol. I, No. 1.) Cambridge, Mass., Peabody Museum, 1959. 96 p. $3.50 English translation of studies by the leading Soviet archaeologist on Siberia, dealing with the history of that region from the neolithic period through the first millenium A.D. 24 plates, 3 maps.

400. Ottenberg, Simon and Phoebe, eds.
Cultures and Societies of Africa. N. Y., Random House, 1960. 614 p. $7.50 A superior collection of 32 anthropological readings on Africa, by various writers, dealing with peoples, social groupings, tribal authority, cultural change, and religion. A sample of the latter is Schapera's critical study of Christianity and the Tswana of Bechuanaland. An important introduction to the complexities of African social life and change.

401. Read, Margaret.
Children of their Fathers; Growing Up Among the Ngoni of Nyasaland. New Haven, Yale University Press, 1960. 176 p. $4.75 How children of the Ngoni tribe of Southeastern Africa grow up, from birth to adulthood. Family and social education, tribal institutions, rituals, and the resulting "personality." By a noted anthropologist, based upon a three-year field study.

402. Reay, Marie.
The Kuma; Freedom and Conformity in the New Guinea Highlands. Melbourne, Australia, Melbourne University Press, 1959. 222 p. $8.50 Social systems and institutions - marriage, kinship, authority, religion - of the lively and quarrelsome Kuma people in the highlands of New Guinea. Women and pigs are symbols of wealth and power. Important ethnographic study by a trained Australian anthropologist.

403. Richards, Audrey I., ed.
East African Chiefs; a Study of Political Development in some Uganda and Tanganyika Tribes. London, Faber and Faber, 1960. 419 p. 42/- On the background of British colonial government through indirect rule, a revealing study of East African chieftainship and heredity through selection and examination of 1,157 chiefs - their history, character and training - in fourteen tribes. Helpful research for all administrators as Africa reaches for independence.

404. Shapiro, Harry L., ed.
Man, Culture and Society. N. Y., Oxford University Press, 1960. 380 p. $2.25 An anthology of sixteen essays written by eminent anthropologists. Each essay has been selected as an introduction to a particular phase of anthropology. Bibliography of suggested readings and index.

405. Slack, Kenneth.
The Christian Conflict. London, Edinburgh House Press, 1960. 110 p. 6/-
The General Secretary of the British Council of Churches speaks with a thoughtful and sensitive understanding about the conflicts in which the world Christian community is involved, both outer and inner conflicts. Excellent for study and general reading.

406. Steward, Julian H., and Faron, Louis C.
Native Peoples of South America. N. Y., McGraw-Hill, 1959. 481 p. $8.50
Vivid reconstruction of the cultural history of numerous South American Indian Tribes, from archaeological and pre-historic materials, showing the persistence of traditional forms as well as strong Spanish and Portuguese influences. The authors offer theories regarding the changing social patterns.

407. Van Wing, J., S.J.
Études Bakongo; Sociologie-Réligion et Magie. (Museum Lessianum, Section Missiologique No. 39.) Bruges, Desclée de Brouwer, 1959. 512 p. Bel. Fr.300
First editions of the two sections were published in 1930 and 1938. This is the second edition, revised. A valuable anthropological and sociological study of the history and social life, religion, and magic of the tribes of the lower Congo (old Kingdom of Congo). By a former Catholic missionary.

408. Winter, Edward H.
Beyond the Mountains of the Moon; the Lives of Four Africans. Urbana, Ill., University of Illionois Press, 1959. 276 p. $5.50 An experienced anthropologist noted verbatim the life histories of two men and two women of the Amba tribe in Uganda. An intimate and vivid revelation of the thoughts, feelings and habits of these people in the tension between old and new, including the coming of Christianity.

409. Young, Roland, and Fosbrooke, Henry.
Land and Politics Among the Luguru of Tanganyika. London, Routledge and Kegan Paul, 1960. 212 p. 35/- A study of political and social changes taking place among the Liguru tribe of central Tanganyika, the crisis resulting from the conflict between progressive government measure for land improvement and the old way of life, present achievements and future trends. Cooperative project by an American political scientist and British anthropologist.

X. THEOLOGICAL, WORSHIP AND DEVOTIONAL

410. Chardin, Pierre Teilhard de, S.J.
The Phenomenon of Man. N. Y., Harper, 1959. 318 p. $5.00 Highly acclaimed non-fiction best-seller in France, now translated into English. The eminent Jesuit priest and paleontologist gives a brilliant and bold interpretation of evolution and of man's spiritual destiny from Christian and scientific premises. "Christianity fulfills all the conditions we are entitled to expect from a religion of the future."

411. Cobb, John B., Jr.
Varieties of Protestantism. Philadelphia, Westminster Press, 1960. 271 p. $4.50 The author examines Protestantism by the use of nine categories. The divisions are not according to denominations but according to "types" such as "Reformation," "liturgical," "individualistic," and "liberal." Helpful bibliographies with sentence evaluations are included.

412. Grant, Robert M.
The Secret Sayings of Jesus. Garden City, N. Y., Doubleday, 1960. 206 p. $3.50 An authoritative account of the ancient documents found in Egypt in 1945. The religious and social background of the groups that produced these writings is described. Especial attention is given to the Gospel of Thomas which is translated in full with extensive commentary. A map and selected bibliography and index are included.

413. Lyon, Quinter M.
Quiet Strength from World Religions. N. Y., Harper, 1960. 234 p. $3.75 An unusual book of devotional meditaions based on the scriptures of all faiths, including the Old and New Testaments of the Bible. The selections are made with spiritual insight and open unexpected resources in the non-Christian religions.

414. Niles, D. T.
For To-Day: A Series of Daily Bible Studies for a Whole Year. Philadelphia, Muhlenberg Press, 1955. 442 p. $2.50 A book of daily devotions by the widely known and loved Ceylonese Christian leader, now secretary of the East Asia Christian Conference.

XI. PUBLICATIONS OF THE MISSIONARY RESEARCH LIBRARY

January - July, 1960

Occasional Bulletin. Published ten to fourteen times a year at the nominal subscription rate of $2.00 for the calendar year. No additional charge for postage, domestic or foreign.

Vol. XI

No. 1. Selected and Annotated Bibliography of Anthropology for Missionaries. $4.75

No. 2. The Role of the Laity in the Christian World Mission. By Eugene L. Smith. 11 p. $.15

No. 3. Christian Colleges and the Future. By William P. Fenn. And a CHECK LIST OF OVERSEAS PROTESTANT COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES. Compiled by Clara E. Orr. 15 p. $.15

No. 4. Ecumenical Streams in Protestant Christianity. By Frank Wilson Price. 15 p. $.15

No. 5. Edinburgh 1910 - 1960. By F. W. P. $.15

No. 6. Psychological Relationships in the Communication of the Christian Faith. By Eugene A. Nida. 18 p. $.25

Book Notes. Issued monthly. Free to subscribers of the Occasional Bulletin or sent upon request.

| | |
|---|---|
| January | Books by Albert Schweitzer. |
| February | The Christian Gospel and Renascent Religions. |
| March-April | Important Reference Books. |
| May-June | "Ambassadors for Christ." |
| July-August | Summer Choice. |

Selected List of Current Books and Pamphlets, July 1 - December 31, 1959. $.50

Directory of Schools Overseas Available for Children of North American Missionaries. Compiled by Clara E. Orr. January 1960. Price: $1.50

XI. PUBLICATIONS OF THE SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY AT CLAREMONT

Publications Bulletin. Published ten to fourteen times a year at the normal subscription rate of $1.00 for the calendar year. In additional countries for postage, domestic or foreign.

1. Selected and Annotated Bibliography of Anthropology for Librarians. $1.00

The Role of the Laity in the Christian World Mission. By Hugo H. Smith. 12 p. $.10

Christian Colleges and the Nation. By William T. Ferm. and a Letter from the Department of Education and University Use. Compiled by Olaf S. Gulseth. 15 p. $.15

Numerical Systems in Predominant Civilizations. By Frank Gilson Lewis.

Interpersonal Relationships in the Communication of the Christian Faith. By Eugene ... Nida. 12 p. $.05

Periodicals monthly. Free to subscribers of the Occasional Bulletin or sent on request.

Books by Albert Schweitzer.
The Christian Gospel and Reasonable Beliefs.
"Ambassadors for Christ."
Summer Choice.

Catalog of Current Books and Pamphlets, July 1 - December 31, 1955. $.50

Bibliography Available for Children of North American Missionaries. Revised to Date. January 1960. Price: $1.00

GTU Library
3 2400 00645 5657

FOR REFERENCE

NOT TO BE TAKEN FROM THIS ROOM